WILL DEMAND AN INDEMNITY

Baron Komura Authorizes This Statement on Behalf of Japan.

HER LOSS IS GREAT

Plenipotentiary Is Convinced Peace Will Be Declared at Close of Negotiations.

FAVORS OPEN DOOR POLICY

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 25.—That Japan will demand an indemnity of Russia in the negotiattions for peace, and that the war will be declared at an end at the conclusion of the negotiations at Portsmouth, N. H., next month, is the belief of Baron Komura, head of the Japanese peace delegation who arrived here today, as voiced by Aimar Sato, who is the official spokesman for the baron on this mission. Mr. Sato in an interview tonight, said:

"I am confident peace will be successfully negotiated by the appointed delegations. The Japanese will be guided by moderation, and no excessive demands will be made, but the sentiment in Japan and Russia is for peace, and in the interests of humanity and propriety there must be peace.

"The cost to Japan, however, has been very great. On both sides the loss in men has been 570,000, Russia losing 370,000 of these. The war is costing Japan $1,000,000 a day, and there is a feeling there ought to be an indemnity."

Asked as to the probability of an armistice, Mr. Sato said that probably would be among the first questions the plenipotentiaries would consider. Basing the form of the negotiations on previous treaty negotiations, Japan will make the demands for Russia's consideration, he said.

Mikado Drew Up Terms.

The peace terms, while held inviolate by those who know their text, were formulated by the emperor of Japan and his council. Mr. Sato was asked if in the flush of victory the Japanese people would not feel entitled to more than any treaty would allow. He replied:

"The Japanese are not so gentle as to abide by any decision we may make, but they pay great respect to the offices of President Roosevelt, and his acts have done a great deal to emphasize the need for peace."

Mr. Sato further said the Japanese would prefer to have the negotiations in the English language, as neither Baron Komura nor himself speaks French. The matter, however, would be settled after President Roosevelt had met the two committees.

Of the attitude of the Japanese plenipotentiaries toward the Russian delegates, Mr. Sato said:

"We admire M. Witte and the Baron Rosen. The announcement of M. Witte's appointment to the peace party was more welcome to us than that of any other person could have been. We recognize him as a great statesman."

Of the future of China, Mr. Sato said:

"If the central government could work in harmony with the district or provincial governments China would become a great power, but at present that seems to be impossible."

Japan's Attitude Toward China.

Japan's attitude toward China was most friendly, said Mr. Sato, and while maintaining no moral Monroe doctrine over the empire, she felt it was more or less under Japan's protection. This protection, by way of illustration, Mr. Sato said, was "not so strong over China as that of the United States over South America."

Mr. Sato emphasized the announcement, frequently made, that Japan does not seek territorial aggrandizement. On this point he said:

"We want in Manchuria equal opportunity, or what Mr. Hay called the open door."

In response to further questions Mr. Sato said Japan is overpopulated, and that in the opening up of Manchuria and Korea an attractive field for immigration would be nearer home than offered in Hawaii or America.

Mr. Sato said that while a desire for peace was the sentiment of Japan, it was not a desire for peace at any price. Japan is in a very prosperous condition at present," he said, "and the war taxes do not fall heavily upon the people yet. There has already been subscribed $250,000,000 to a new internal loan, and our prosperity is further indicated in the success of our foreign loans."

Laughs at Yellow Peril.

As to Japan's attitude toward America, Mr. Sato laughingly asked: "You mean the yellow peril," and then became more enthusiastic in his conversation than upon any previous topic. He said:

"We are almost boyish in our enthusiasm and friendship for America. While we are friendly with China as orientals, our greatest friends are America and England. Why, the first monument ever erected to any foreigner in Japan was that to Commodore Perry, and the policy and conduct of the American people for the last 50 years has been one of help to us. We regard America as an ally without a treaty."

The question was put to Mr. Sato as to any possibility of conflict with the United States in the future, as suggested by some of the American press at the outbreak of the war. Mr. Sato asked what could bring about such a conflict. When it was suggested that Japan might covet the Philippine Islands, he laughed heartily, and replied that Japan would not have the Philippines as a gift, even though a bonus accompanied the gift.

Made Quiet Arrival.

Baron Komura and his party arrived early today from Chicago and proceeded at once to the Waldorf-Astoria, where they will remain quartered until his departure for Portsmouth. There was no demonstra-

STEEL EARNINGS SHOW INCREASE

Statement of United States Corporation Indicates Vast Improvement.

THE USUAL DIVIDEND PAID

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, July 25.

Earnings of the United States Steel Corporation for the second quarter of the year ending June 30 last were officially announced today to be $39,365,116. The business on hand amounted to 4,829,628 tons, as compared with 5,597,560 tons booked on April 1 last. The statement bears out the reports that a lull developed in the steel business this spring and orders are now 767,905 tons less than they were on April 1, which amount was a high record figure.

In the statement issued today it appears that heavy appropriations were made out of the quarterly earnings. Altogether the management set aside $8,500,000 after the dividend on the preferred stock and fixed charges were paid, for various extraordinary purposes. The result, therefore, so far as the surplus of the quarter is concerned, shows little if any changes from the surplus of preceding quarters.

Compared with a year ago, net earnings for the second quarter show an increase of $10,814,481. The total of $39,365,116 for the quarter just ended compares with $23,025,896 for the first quarter of the year, $19,490,725 for the second quarter in 1904, and $36,642,308 in 1903. After fixed charges $5,492,594 were deducted, together with $1,000,000 for a special improvement and replacement fund, there was left $23,812,562 applicable to dividends, the interest on the 5 per cent bonds and the sinking fund requirements on these bonds. After these charges were deducted, there was left an apparent surplus for the quarter of $19,570,681.

Out of this apparent surplus the management made deductions of $7,500,000 as follows: On account of expenditures made and to be made on authorized appropriations for additional property, construction and discharge of capital obligations, $5,000,000, and specifically set aside for contemplated appropriations and expenditures, $2,500,000.

It was learned that the company has decided to place as much of the earnings as possible into new construction work. The various plans of improvements outlined in the past are being gradually inaugurated, and some are drawing near completion. The erection of a new tube works costing $10,000,000 is one of the schemes which, it is stated, is being built out of earnings. Orders on hand June 30 last, amounting to 4,829,655 tons, compare as follows with other quarterly periods: 5,597,560 tons on April 1, 4,696,203 tons on January 1, 3,027,456 tons on October 1, 1904; 3,192,277 tons on July 1, 1904; 4,136,961 tons on April 1, 1904, and 5,410,719 tons on April 1, 1903.

The directors declared the regular quarterly dividend on the preferred stock of 1¾ per cent, payable August 30 next.

EFFECT OF RURAL DELIVERY.

Fifty-two Weekly and Semi-Weekly Papers of Iowa to Be Changed to Daily Issues by Syndicate.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Fourth Assistant Postmaster General De Graw today made public a communication to his department which states that 50 weekly and semi-weekly papers in various towns and cities in Iowa are to be transformed into daily papers through an organization of capitalists whereby two pages of the papers are to be printed at one central place and distributed to the towns, where the remaining two pages are to be printed with the local news.

The plan is declared to have been made feasible through the greater demand for dailies on the part of rural residents whose mail is now delivered daily through the rural free delivery service.

CHANGE DEMANDED BY PORTO RICANS

They Want Insular Senate and Bureau Officers Named by the Governor.

TO MEMORIALIZE CONGRESS

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

SAN JUAN, PORTO RICO, July 25.—Delegates representing 65 out of the 66 municipalities of Porto Rico, and of both political parties, assembled in convention here today to memorialize congress with the view of bringing about sweeping changes in the government of this Island.

The memorial adopted by the convention recites that this is the seventh anniversary of the American invasion of Porto Rico, and complains that the preponderance of power still rests with an executive council composed of heads of departments appointed by President Roosevelt.

"These heads of departments," it says, "arrive here knowing nothing of the language, customs or needs of the country, and 24 hours after disembarking take their seats in the executive council and determine the fate of the island."

The memorial calls for no change in the composition of the house of delegates, which consists of 35 members elected by the people, but demands the following amendments to the Foraker law:

"First. The organization of an insular senate to be composed of two senators each from seven districts, in place of the executive council.

"Second. That the proposed senate and the house possess the same privileges granted to the house under the Foraker law.

"Third. That the secretary of Porto Rico, the attorney general, the treasurer, the auditor, the commissioner of education and the commissioner of the interior continue in their present offices under the present titles, but that they form no part of the executive council.

"Fourth. That the officials named be appointed by the governor with the consent of the insular senate and not by the president of the United States."

The memorial was adopted by a rising vote, the delegates cheering for five minutes.

The convention also adopted a petition for presentation to the insular legislature for the protection of the municipalities and the granting to them of autonomy. One result of the convention is the permanent establishment of an organization known as the Porto Rico Municipal league, with Mayor R. H. Todd of San Juan as president.

PRESIDENT HAD NO DEAL WITH "FADS AND FANCIES"

He Is Indignant Over Effort of Town Topics to Connect His Name With That Publication.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 25.—Indignation is expressed here at Col. W. D. Mann's new effort to connect President Roosevelt with "Fads and Fancies," published by Town Topics.

Acting Secretary Barnes today authorized the statement that the president had never had even the most indirect dealings with the publication mentioned. The possession of a photograph with Mr. Roosevelt's autograph means nothing whatever. Thousands of autographs and photographs have been given away at the White House previous to the last political campaign. Since November the president has not been as generous, but even during his summer rest at Sagamore Hill, not a day has passed without his complying with a request for his name written across the bottom of his pictures.

Some agent or friend of Col. Mann may have received a photograph at the White House, but that the president, through his secretary gave one for publication in a Town Topics work or had any communication with its editors is authoritatively and explicitly denied.

COBBLER'S SHOES START A BIG RIOT

Two Score Men and a Woman Battle With Police and Firemen in Fourth Avenue.

AMAZON'S FIERCE DEFENSE

Because George Malos, a Greek, objected to the shoes worn by an English cobbler, a riot was precipitated in Fourth avenue about 7:30 o'clock last night. Two riot calls were turned in to Central station. After a battle, in which the Englishman, Greeks, policemen, firemen and a physician's wife participated, 12 men and a woman were arrested. They were taken to the police station, where each finally succeeded in digging up $150 for a forfeit and was released.

The trouble started when Malos criticised the cobbler's shoes. Joseph Marshall and Peter Demisiris, both Greeks, sided with the Englishman. Other Greeks were drawn into the maelstrom of battle, taking sides according to their sympathies or prejudices, until the free-for-all included two score men.

Policemen Clark and Nikirk answered the first riot call. The combatants at once dropped their personal feuds and united against the officers. This resulted in the second riot call, to which Police Capt. McCabe and several detectives responded.

By this time the Greeks had fought their way to the front of 107 Fourth avenue, the residence of Dr. Nicholas Pobolis. Mrs. Helen Pobolis, wife of the physician, took a hand in the affray. While the firemen from engine house No. 1 were assisting the police to restore order, Mrs. Pobolis hurled beer bottles, pitchers, bowls and chairs through the windows. Fireman John Neelan got a beer bottle in the neck. It knocked him down and stunned him. A chair caught Fireman Robert Clark on the arm and cut it from the elbow to the wrist.

The police and firemen stormed the second floor of Dr. Pobolis' house. There the woman and several men, each of the latter with a long, sharp knife, made a desperate defense. It required quick and concerted action to subdue them all. The woman was the hardest to manage, as she fought like a tigress. Four men finally picked her up and carried her to the patrol wagon. Other combatants, who had fled before the onslaught of the police and firemen, were found on the third floor and some were hiding in the cellar. Fully 1,000 persons witnessed the riot.

Besides Pobolis and his wife, the men arrested were George and Peter Demetria, George Malos, Peter Mohliperis and Gus Germanos, all of 127 Fourth avenue; George and Abarsius Pappis of 107 Fourth avenue; Mike Veraderis and Joe Schiadi, of 121 Fourth avenue, and Joe Marshall of 319 Ferry street.

PAID WELL FOR TRUSTFULNESS

Mr. Hanna Hoped Everything Would Come Out Right in the End.

HOW MONEY WENT

New Castle's Treasurer Is Learning How His Own and City's Cash Disappeared.

CHECK COVERED SHORTAGE

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW CASTLE, July 25.—For nearly three hours this afternoon ex-City Treasurer Alexander S. Hanna was on the stand at the meeting of the councilmanic investigating committee which is probing the $20,000 shortage in his accounts. The story that he told was such a revelation of careless and blind trustfulness that everything would somehow come out right that even those who thought they knew most about the affair were amazed.

All his private business, as well as the affairs of the office, were gone into and, while there was much that he could not remember, it was evident that he was telling all he did know.

Hanna admitted that he had set men to watch Miss Nina Miller, his former bookkeeper. They were not detectives, he said, but were men living in town. This step was taken, he said, on the advice of his attorneys. So far from getting any of the missing money himself, he has been compelled to go into debt to meet current expenses.

Money Went Easy.

If facts and figures count for anything, Hanna spent a great deal more money within the last three years than he had supposed, and in this way more than $12,000 of the missing $20,000 has been accounted for. This statement of affairs was revealed by a long series of questions propounded by C. H. Akens, one of the attorneys for Miss Miller.

Hanna confessed to having dealt in stocks to some account. He had bought $90 worth of Grand Junction Smelting stock, he said. It had never paid dividends. Four hundred dollars had also gone for gold mining stock, the face value of which is $40,00. Mr. Hanna said that he did no further speculating.

This line of questions also dealt with the living expenses of the family. Mr. Hanna claimed that his living expenses did not exceed $600 a year, but item after item was counted by Mr. Akens, and by Hanna's own figures they amounted to $2,700 for one year, or $8,100 for the three years of the last term.

In addition to the items noted Hanna had made improvements to the house in which he lives, had bought a horse and carriage, and had kept two horses. It was shown that in addition to his living expenses he had spent during the last three years $4,250. This makes the total in excess of $12,000 and the attorneys are convinced that there are enough items overlooked to account for the remaining $8,000.

How the Shortage Was Covered.

It was an ingenious method to which Hanna resorted to cover up the shortage. It was his confident expectation that all would come out right. He admitted having used the city funds in covering up deficits, but said he thought there were enough commissions due him so that nothing would be lost to the city. Hanna frequently borrowed sums of $1,000 and $1,500 from the Lawrence Savings and Trust Company, giving a check drawn, according to his own statement, against the fund that had no existence in fact. It was his custom then to borrow from the First National bank, and with this sum, and some receipts from the office, to lift the checks. When the notes held by the last named bank became due they were paid with the city funds.

This performance was repeated over and over again, an endless chain being thus established that kept the deficit covered for more than two years. It was these checks that appeared on the deposit slips and which so much mystified the members of the committee.

It was also revealed that when Hanna entered upon his second term three years ago he was short $1,000. The amount to make up this deficit was borrowed from the First National bank. The debt was rebuilt near the end of the term, which fact accounted for the sudden leap in the amount of the shortage.

Hanna's statements agree with much that Miss Miller had revealed in her initial statement. He said there was no key for the inside door of the safe and that he had never been supplied with one. On one or two occasions he said the door of the vault had been left open at night and that the janitor had informed an officer about the city building of the fact. He said that on other occasions the outside door of the office had not been locked at night and admitted that if any of the money had been stolen he would have had no way to show it. Only a few times, Hanna said, had the money been counted at night or in the morning. It had then been found all right.

Hanna's son, J. Francis Hanna, who with Miss Miller, assisted with the work of the office, was brought rather prominently into the matter. Hanna said he had paid his son and Miss Miller each $6 a week. The two had not been paid regularly, but had received money when ever he wanted it. No account of the times or amounts of these payments had ever been kept.

Treasurer McCandless was on the witness stand for a short time today, but his testimony developed nothing new. He will tomorrow submit a statement showing the cash on hand and the amount to bank each month of Hanna's last term. Tomorrow Miss Miller will take the stand and will tell in detail the story of her connection with the affair.

PASTORS ASK UNIFORM TAX

Protests to County Commissioners May Lead to New System.

FIGURES FURNISHED

County Clergymen Claim They Are Assessed More Than High Salary City Brethren.

OTHER TRADES CONSIDERED

Owing to the protest of many clergymen outside the large cities, the entire system of occupation taxation by the assessors in the cities, boroughs and townships may be changed to conform to a supreme court decision in which it was specifically stated that an income tax could not be assessed under the constitution. Yet this is just what many assessors seem to be doing throughout Allegheny county.

The protest was made to the county commissioners by a delegation of ministers, headed by a prominent corporation lawyer. The commissioners have taken the matter under advisement, and if the new board of assessors is not appointed they may order that all occupation taxes be assessed throughout the county according to the occupation and not the income which the occupation professes.

Occupations to Be Classified.

That is, they may order that all occupations be divided into classes—merchants, ministers, doctors, lawyers, laborers, etc.—and each assessed at the uniform rate demanded by Article 9 of the Pennsylvania constitution, which says: "All taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects within territorial limits of the authority levying the tax."

The injustice, the ministers say, is shown by the fact that while many of the leading city preachers, who get salaries above $5,000, are assessed only $600 and $1,000, while ministers in outlying boroughs, who get less than $1,500, are assessed at the same and often at a larger figure. The Rev. Dr. Arundel, who is known to get over $5,000, and Dr. Maitland Alexander, who gets over that amount are each assessed in the Fourteenth ward at $600, while the Rev. G. W. Montgomery of the Oakmont Presbyterian church, who does not get over $1,500 salary, has to pay taxes on $800.

Contrary to Supreme Court Decision.

Dr. W. L. McEwen of the Third Presbyterian church, who gets a very large salary, is assessed in the Twentieth ward on $1,500. According to the supreme court decision he should pay a uniform rate, and every other preacher should pay the same rate. In the same ward Dr. Beutel Dorchester of the Christ Methodist church is assessed at $2,500. He should pay no more than Dr. McEwen. In Plum township the Rev. C. G. Hazlett, a Presbyterian minister who does not get a salary of much over $1,000, pays on an occupation tax of $400, very much out of proportion, if income is to be considered, to that paid by the city pastors.

The Rev. Dr. McKee of Turtle Creek pays on an occupation tax of $400, while the Rev. Thomas Griffith of the Seventeenth ward pays on a $700 valuation. In the same ward the Rev. U. S. Greeves of the Forty-third Street Presbyterian church pays at the rate of $400, showing a minister in a small country place is assessed twice as high as a preacher in the city, and a minister in the same ward twice as high as another.

Wide Range in City Assessments.

The following shows the range of city assessments against ministers who get high salaries: The Rev. J. H. McIlvain, $1,500; the Rev. William McCracken, $1,000; the Rev. J. P. McKee, $1,000; the Rev. D. McWilliams, $400; the Rev. W. A. Stanton, $1,000; the Rev. George D. Banks, $1,000; the Rev. R. M. Russell, $800; the Rev. William Robertson, $800; Dr. Arundel, $600; the Rev. Maitland Alexander, $600, and the Rev. W. P. Schramm, $1,000. There are many who are assessed at a much lower figure, while the townships and boroughs, in many instances, show even higher assessments.

If the assessors are figuring on incomes and assessing occupations as an income tax in direct violation of the supreme court decision, and against the constitutional provisions as to income taxation, which has been settled by the supreme court of the United States, there can be no more ludicrous comparisons than are shown in many of the wards, boroughs and townships. In Knoxville, for instance, the Rev. J. Eames is assessed on an occupation tax of $250 and the Rev. W. A. Jones at $200, while M. Gerster, a saloonkeeper, gets off with $150, and a well-known brewer at the same figure. Attorneys and doctors are assessed at $200.

Incongruities in Turtle Creek.

In Turtle Creek merchants get off with an occupation tax on $200, while clergymen are assessed at $400. doctors $400, attorneys $500 and architects, $300. In the Seventeenth ward, the Rev. Anthony Smalts is assessed on $500, while Mathew Smith, liquor dealer, gets off with $200.

The clergymen stated it was unfair to ordinary preachers who get but $1,000 salary, that they should be assessed on this, as though it was an assessment on their income, while politicians in the city, pastors of wealthy churches who get $5,000 and $7,500, should be assessed at $600. They wished all the members to be assessed under the supreme court decision. They did not want the assessment of more favored brethren raised, but wanted all lowered to the same figure, whether it be $1,000 or $500. While they were particularly interested in the ministers, yet at the same time their attorney, who filed the formal protest, said may yet test the matter, claimed that the commissioners would do well to make all occupation taxes uniform throughout the county, which may mean a complete revision of the $40 tax books, as there is nothing uniform about them.

THIRTY-FOUR DIE OF YELLOW FEVER

New Orleans Board of Health Gives Out Number of Victims Since July 13.

THE STATE IS QUARANTINED

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, July 25.—In response to the recommendation of the state board of health, the city bureau of health tonight compiled the figures of suspicious and actual cases of yellow fever and deaths. They show that between July 13 and July 21 there were 105 cases, suspicious and positive, and 20 deaths. Since then there have been 54 cases and 12 deaths up to July 24, making all told 154 cases and 32 deaths. Today there were five deaths, making 34 to date. There are about 50 cases under treatment.

Dr. George B. Young, United States Marine hospital service, has been assigned to take charge of the inspection of trains, to co-operate with the states and localities which have instituted quarantines, and he will make his headquarters in Jackson, Miss.

In view of the complications over outside and inside quarantines, the state board will tomorrow quarantine the state against the city of New Orleans, and such territory in the immediate vicinity of New Orleans as desires to maintain open communication with the city. This will result in relieving the quarantines which Mississippi has placed against the whole state, and which Dr. Tabor of Texas threatened.

Subscriptions are being taken to a fund of $100,000 for the maintenance of a detention hospital. Sanitation in the French market quarter, where the disease incubated, continues. That section is now probably in a more cleanly condition than it has been at any time since the war.

New quarantines are being put on, but a number of towns refuse to put up the bars. The piney woods section of St. Tammany has refused to quarantine and has extended a general invitation to New Orleans people to come there.

PRINCE OF GIVERS WAS THE LATE WILLIAM THAW

Government Official Publication Gives a List of Some of His Gifts for Education.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Two Pittsburghers are included in the "Educational Benefactors" of the country by an official publication issued by the bureau of education of the department of interior. They are Andrew Carnegie and the late William Thaw. An extensive biography of Mr. Carnegie, which recently appeared in a magazine is republished while an original sketch of Mr. Thaw's life is given a prominent place in the book. It says among other things:

Mr. Thaw endeavored to acknowledge the obligation owed by those who have wealth to those who have not, and sought to advance the interests of all classes of society. He believed that his church had provided ways for service to his fellow-men, and gave largely in support of religious organizations and of the churches and colleges, and was especially active in promoting the disposition to give on the part of other men of means. He was cut off in the midst of his usefulness, and there was found, after his death, a record of some of his benefactions, of which the following is a specimen:

"Park college, $20,000; Berea college, $7,400 and $10,400; Yale college, $6,000; Wabash college, $2,000; Worcester university, $5,000; Western university of Pennsylvania, $175,000; Observatory, Allegheny, $30,000; Biddle university, $25,000; School of Design, $5,000; Oberlin college, $5,200; Marysville, Tenn., $25,000; Jamestown, N. D., $1,000."

His widow has manifested a purpose to use the fortune left her in the same discriminating way.

The escape was discovered by Miss Nellie Bretzius, who saw the men crawling through a hole in the roof. Gorman and Haughran were recaptured several hours later.

THEY ARE ON CONSTANT WATCH FOR OLD SATAN

Soldiers for Salvation Camping in Force in Burgwins Woods Above Glenwood.

No bugler sounds "taps" in the camp of the Free Methodists in Burgwin's woods on the hill above Glenwood, where 100 devout families are encamped and laying siege to the forces of sin. The pickets are always out and the watchful sentry is ever on the lookout for old Satan. Because the spirit of evil is a night prowler and likely to make a hostile descent in the hours of darkness, the Rev. A. D. Zahniser, commandant of the campmeeting, eliminated military orders and allows his soldiers for salvation to remain up just as long as they like. Taps at 10 o'clock more than likely would cut into the tenthly of some eloquent sermon, and consequently lights burn until after midnight and often in the early matches of the morning. "Greenland's Icy Mountains" and other good Methodist rallying cries are heard ringing amid the trees, mingled with the night song of the whippoor-will and the noisy jay.

There is no bugle in camp, but there is a fine bell and it rings regularly three times a day, when the ministers are summoned to their platters of spring chicken. At 5:15 in the morning everybody rises and spends a few minutes in morning prayer. Breakfast is ready at 7:30. Then comes family prayer in the tents, the love feast under the trees and preaching. The benediction comes in time for dinner at 12:30. Parvers, a childrens' meeting and more preaching takes up the time of the afternoon. Supper is enjoyed early and family prayers, ring meeting, song service and still more preaching winds up the day.

Somebody asked why roll call was not insisted upon and the question as to the absence of "taps" puzzled strangers of a military turn of mind, but the Methodists explained that soldiers for the Lord were never absent at roll call and that the safety of their souls necessitated their always being alert. The camp services will be continued until next Sunday. The end of the campaign, the worshipers declare, will see old Satan banished forever—from Burgwin's woods.

SURGEONS TO OPERATE ON BOY'S BROKEN NECK

Pressure to Be Removed from Spine of Patient at St. Francis to Effect Cure.

Since last Sunday Fred Kleake, a clerk, aged 16, has been in the St. Francis hospital with a broken neck. This morning an operation is to be performed for the purpose of making possible the lad's recovery. The operation is one that is rarely attempted and local physicians are deeply interested. Below the neck young Kleake is paralyzed.

With some companions he went in swimming at Etna last Sunday, and dived from a barge. It is supposed he struck a projecting stone, for he was taken from the water unconscious and apparently unable to move either his arms or limbs. He was carried to a house nearby and later taken to the hospital.

The surgeons have found that there is pressure upon the spinal column and this has caused the paralysis. In the operation the vertebra will be exposed and the pressure removed. This the surgeons feel confident will relieve the sufferer and restore his power over his body. A complete recovery is hoped for.

BALFOUR MANAGES TO BALK OBSTRUCTIONISTS

LONDON, July 26.—The members of the opposition in the house of commons practically led by John Redmond, yesterday inaugurated their threatened plan of making government business impossible, keeping the house in stormy session until 8 o'clock this morning, compelling Premier Balfour to have constant recourse to closure as the only means of advancing business. Supporters of the government maintained a majority in the neighborhood of 60.

Says He Found the Watch.

Alderman Toole yesterday held Blaine Confer for court on a charge of larceny made by Samuel C. Garvin. Garvin alleges that Confer broke into his home and stole a valuable gold watch and a fountain pen. The watch was recovered in a pawnshop, but Confer alleges he found it.

ARMIES CONTINUE TO CLASH IN MANCHURIA

Japanese Beat Back in Confusion Large Force of Russian Cavalry and Infantry.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

FUSAN, July 25.—Two Russian reconnoitering forces approached the Japanese line last Friday, one about 20 miles, the other 70 miles east of the railway. The first contingent consisted of two squadrons of cavalry, the second of two battalions of infantry. Both retired after brief encounters. The Japanese sustained no losses, but those of the Russians are supposed to have been nearly 100.

In the first encounter the Russian cavalry, with its front side 1,000 metres long, advanced upon the Japanese line until it came under fire, when it retired in confusion and the infantry advanced. The Japanese fired 30 rounds with a captured Russian battery, when the Russians retired, the Japanese infantry following them for 10 miles.

The Russian and Japanese lines are seven miles apart. The Russians maintain a screen of cavalry outposts some miles in front of their trenches, to guard against attacks. Reconnoitering forces from both sides traverse the neutral zone, frequently feeling the strength of the others at the front and making a small weekly list of killed, wounded and captured.

TOKYO, July 25.—An official report from the headquarters of the Japanese army in Northern Korea says: "On Monday, July 24, the army succeeded in dislodging the enemy from the neighborhood of Puku and Puryong, and occupied a line to the northward."

ST. PETERSBURG, July 25.—Reinforcements for Gen. Linevitch are steadily being forwarded. The Thirteenth army corps, the headquarters of which are at Smolensk, will leave for the front next week.

CABINET OF SWEDEN RESIGNS FROM OFFICE

Resignation Was Received Without Any Outward Manifestations by the People.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

STOCKHOLM, SWEDEN, July 25.—The cabinet has resigned. The resignation was received without outward manifestations of excitement. Crowds gathered in the vicinity of the newspaper offices, but there was no demonstration. The papers express satisfaction over the unanimity of the committee's report to the riksdag.

The committee emphatically disapproves of any action by Sweden, either in the direction of a dissolution of the union or recognition of Norway's independence until the Norwegians have had an opportunity through elections or a plebiscite of expressing their wishes.

PRESIDENT DOES NOT WANT A LARGE MILITARY ESCORT

WILKESBARRE, PA., July 25.—(Special.)—President Roosevelt has sent word to the committee having in charge the arrangements for his address here August 10, that he does not desire the escort of the Ninth regiment, and the Catholic Total Abstinence Union regiment, saying the presence of such large bodies of men usually delays matters.

Loses Kentucky Home.

Word has just been received that the country home of the Rev. Dr. William B. McEwan of the Third Presbyterian church, Fifth avenue, in Woodlake, Ky., was destroyed by fire last Wednesday, causing a loss of $5,000. The fire is thought to have been due to flying sparks from the chimney.

MUTUAL UNION BREWERY WILL GO TO ALLIQUIPPA

Plant of the Local Retail Liquor Dealers Will Be Erected in the Beaver County Town Instead of at Irwin.

Irwin will be surprised today to learn the plant of the Mutual Union Brewing Company is not to be built in that town. Three acres of ground were yesterday purchased at Alliquippa and the brewery will be erected there.

The switch from Westmoreland to Beaver county was occasioned by a number of things. The brewing company is composed chiefly of Allegheny county retail liquor dealers, who will take almost the entire output of the brewery. A retailer cannot be interested in a brewery in the same county in which he does business. When it was decided to go to Westmoreland, there was a rush of liquor men in that county to take stock. The change to Beaver allows them to go into the company.

Another reason for seeking the new location is the water supply. President Charles S. Black says a better and cheaper supply of water can be had at Alliquippa than could be assured in Irwin. The company will also have the advantage of the Ohio river for steam purposes. Mr. Black says a better freight rate can also be secured.

The site for the new brewery almost adjoins the Alliquippa park and has a frontage of 400 feet on the tracks of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad. The acreage was purchased from the Ohio River Improvement Company for $12,480. A few years ago the property in this same tract was selling at $200 an acre.

The brewery company has employed William Grieser of Joplin, Mo., as the architect of the building. He has erected 40 breweries. Mr. Black last night telegraphed Mr. Grieser to come to Pittsburgh and get plans in shape for the letting of the contract. The company is capitalized at $500,000, and will build a brewery with a capacity of 250,000 barrels a year. The plant will be in operation within a year.

EMPERORS' CONFERENCE WILL MAKE FOR PEACE

This Is the Impression of St. Petersburg Bourse, but Nothing Definite Is Known.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, July 25.—The return of the Russian imperial party to Peterhoff has added nothing definite to the information regarding the subjects discussed between Emperor Nicholas and Emperor William, or the conclusions reached at the private interviews between the two sovereigns. The belief that the meeting will make for peace was reflected on the bourse today, Imperial 4s rising a full point to 85½ in a firm market.

The St. Petersburger Zeitung, a German journal, which has very close relations with the German embassy, lays significant emphasis on the relation of the conference to the internal affairs of Russia.

The interview, the paper declares, must certainly also have had a bearing on the peace negotiations, adding: "It cannot be a matter of indifference whether a belligerent in Russia's situation can on commencing pour parlers boast such warm and mighty friendship or not."

SCHUCHMAN ENDS HIS TROUBLE WITH BULLET

Wealthy Homestead Man Becomes Distracted as Result of Bad Investment and Kills Himself.

While suffering from nervousness and insomnia, the result of worry over the loss of $11,000 invested in a gold mine in Ontario, Canada, Frederick Schuchman, a prominent and wealthy resident of Homestead, shot and killed himself in the office of the Homestead Valve Company in Sixth avenue, Homestead, early yesterday morning. Schuchman was unable to sleep and arose about 1 a. m., and after dressing himself wrote a note to his family, saying:

"I am unable to sleep and cannot stand it any longer. Good-by."

About 7:30 a. m. Mrs. Schuchman awoke and discovered her husband had gone out, but as he suffered from sleeplessness, she went to sleep again. Later she found the note on the dresser and calling her son Walter, sent him to look for his father. On opening the door of the office the young man found his father stretched out dead on the floor with a 32-caliber revolver in his hand. Dr. J. A. Doyle and E. F. Cuthbert were summoned, and after examining Schuchman, stated he had been dead for several hours.

Schuchman was aged 57 and was born on the South Side. About 26 years ago he removed to Homestead and had been very successful in business ventures and accumulated a fortune of about $150,000. Schuchman opened the first department store in the borough. He is survived by a widow and six children.

After suffering with a broken back, received in an accident in a planing mill in Wilkinsburg last October, A. V. Price, aged 60, of No. 7326 Monticello street, died last night at his home. Price was a carpenter, and was injured by falling downstairs at the plant.

Vincent Casslo, aged 29, who had his back broken while at work in the Verner coal mines at Bulger on July 5, died yesterday afternoon at the Homeopathic hospital.

Augusta Schmidt, an inmate of the insane department at the Allegheny city home, Claremont, for the last 17 years, died in that institution Monday night. She formerly lived at No. 173 Manhattan street, Allegheny.

Frank Yalaz, aged 30, died at Claremont of consumption Monday night. He was single.

COMMISSIONERS SAY CARSON SHOULD ACT

Expect Attorney General to Ask Supreme Court to Mandamus Local Judges in Tax Matter.

The county commissioners confidently expect Attorney General Carson to take action to clear the local tax assessment situation. It is their understanding the state law department will ask for a mandamus on the Allegheny county judges to compel them to appoint the board of tax assessment and revision.

Commissioner Evans said yesterday he understood Mr. Carson would take up the proceedings. The commissioners will have T. C. Noble assist him. Mr. Noble was appointed associate county solicitor a couple of months ago and has been doing considerable legal work for the commissioners.

Attorney H. H. Jackson says he has not received any word from the attorney general which would indicate he does not intend to apply to the supreme court for the mandamus. Mr. Carson was not in Harrisburg yesterday.

Enticed Child Into Woods.

Frank Reitsche, a Pole, was arrested yesterday accused of enticing an 8-year-old son of James Conners into the woods of West Park, McKees Rocks. The boy escaped and the father, armed with a gun and accompanied by a neighbor, started out to find Reitsche. He was found hiding in the bushes and made a hard fight, in which he was badly beaten. He was landed in the lockup. He is 25 years of age, married and has five children.

THREE ARE DEAD AND FOUR HURT

Family Narrowly Escapes Being Wiped Out as Result of Gasoline Explosion.

FATHER RESCUES CHILDREN

Three members of one family are dead and four others are suffering from injuries as a result of a gasoline stove exploding yesterday morning at the home of Levi Tigis, No. 125 Wood alley, Braddock. The stove was upset while breakfast was being prepared, and it is probable the entire family, with the exception of the father, would have been cremated had not Tigis escaped from the firemen and rescued them.

THE DEAD:

HARRY TIGIS, aged 7; taken out of second story dead.

MEYER TIGIS, aged 7; taken out of second story dead.

ELSIE TIGIS, aged 3; rescued by father from second story; died at 3 p. m. at the West Penn hospital.

THE INJURED.

MRS. SARAH TIGIS, the mother; burned about face, hands and body; taken to West Penn hospital in critical condition.

GOLDIE TIGIS aged 18; face and hands badly burned; cared for by a neighbor.

RAY TIGIS, aged 16; face and arms burned and suffering from nervous shock; cared for by a neighbor.

LEVI TIGIS, the father; face burned and overcome by smoke while rescuing family; cared for by a neighbor.

Tigis conducts a meat shop in Eighth avenue, Braddock, and early in the morning left home to open his shop. During his absence Mrs. Tigis went to the kitchen to prepare breakfast and accidentally overturned the oil stove. The oil ignited and set fire to her clothing and she ran to the second story to awake the children. In the meantime, the kitchen started to burn and when the children awoke they found their mother lying on the floor of a rear room and their escape to the lower floor cut off by flames ascending the stairs. Neighbors notified Tigis and sent in an alarm of fire.

When the firemen arrived they tried to prevent Tigis going into the flames, but he mounted a ladder and went through the smoke to his children. While he was hunting them the team attached to the hose carriage frightened and ran away, and the flames made great progress before hose lines could be connected. The fire horses ran a block, smashed five rigs and then collided with a telegraph pole.

When Tigis found his children he handed them out of the window to the firemen. The first two taken out, Harry and Meyer, twins, were already dead. Tigis, after placing the last of his family in the arms of the firemen on the ladder, fainted from the smoke and fell to the floor. He was rescued by firemen. The kitchen was destroyed, as was the bedroom in which the two children lost their lives. The house was a two-story frame and was damaged about $1,000.

WILL DEMAND INDEMNITY

tion beyond the presence of a few Japanese merchants and members of the Nippon club, who shook hands with the members of the party. The baron met his colleague on the commission, Kogoro Takashira, minister at Washington, and they lunched in the baron's apartments.

Tomorrow President Roosevelt will be officially notified of Baron Komura's arrival, and later in the week the baron will make an informal visit to Oyster Bay.

There is no stated program mapped out for the distinguished Japanese, pending the arrival of M. Witte, who is expected to arrive next week. Baron Komura will accept no invitations to dinner or public functions of any kind. Tonight he dined informally with Consul General S. Uchida at the Nippon club.

PARIS, July 25.—M. Witte today made his parting calls on Premier Rouvier, other government officials and the diplomatic corps preparatory to sailing from Cherbourg for New York on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse tomorrow. A semi-official statement given out today says that throughout his stay in Paris, M. Witte has not had any negotiations either with officials or financiers.

HOLDS KOMURA AT FAULT.

Chicago's Mayor Refuses to Lunch With Japanese Baron Because Latter Does Not Return Call.

CHICAGO, July 25.—(Special.)—In reply to the comment of Baron Komura on the fact that neight Mayor Dunne nor his representative, Corporation Counsel Lewis, accepted the baron's invitation to luncheon yesterday, Col. Lewis today asserted that the Japanese envoy failed to return the call made by the mayor's representative. Therefore, he added, it was impossible for either the mayor or the corporation counsel to have made a second call upon the baron.

Col. Lewis pointed out that the president of the United States is the only superior upon whom the mayor of Chicago may with propriety call twice in succession.

BELIEVE THE APPOINTMENT WILL BE ANNOUNCED TODAY

Governor Pennypacker Expected to Name New Secretary of the Commonwealth.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, July 25.—J. A. Berkey, Republican leader of Somerset county, may be appointed to the vacant secretaryship of the commonwealth, created by the recent death of Frank M. Fuller of Uniontown.

Berkey has been strongly recommended for the office, and those with whom Gov. Pennypacker has discussed the vacancy believe he is disposed to appoint him.

The governor gives no indication whom he will appoint or when the appointment will be made, although it is believed by state officials and politicians here that the man for the place was chosen at the governor's conference with Senators Knox and Penrose yesterday at Schwenksville.

Gov. Pennypacker came here at noon from Schwenksville and soon after his arrival at the executive department ex-Representative John R. Byrne and Judge E. M. Reppert of Fayette county called to ask that Charles H. Seaton of Uniontown be appointed. William W. Greist, Republican leader of Lancaster county and secretary of the commonwealth under the Stone administration, is the choice of the political friends of Supreme Court Justice Elkin.

It is thought the appointment will be made tomorrow and that the appointee will report here for duty before the governor leaves on Friday for his weekly visit to Schwenksville.

Negro Exodus from Etna.

Hundreds of negroes will be driven from their homes in Bridge street, Etna, tomorrow, unless they leave today or give satisfactory reason for remaining. The houses are owned by the Spang-Chalfant company, which ordered the families to vacate several weeks ago, after the paddlers in the mill struck for higher wages. The time allowed them will expire today, and the negroes still occupy the houses.

Going on Full Time Again.

Work will be given to about 100 additional men in the W. Bewees Wood mill at McKeesport next Monday, when the plant will start on full time after the summer shutdown for repairs. Four of the mills have not been in operation and some of the men have engaged in less remunerative work in the mills, but the majority have been idle.

MANY LOCAL RUSSIANS WAVE THE RED FLAG

Revolutionists Sing the "Marseillaise" and Shout for Vengeance on the Czar.

To the ringing measures of the "Marseillaise" and amid the fluttering of red banners, 2,000 people at Kenwood park last night shouted vengeance on the czar and the Muscovite bureaucracy. In Russia it would have precipitated a bloody riot, but in Pittsburgh it only resulted in opening the purse strings of the friends of the oppressed classes, who are following the red flag to freedom. The Fraternal Russian Revolutionary Society of Western Pennsylvania was holding its first benefit for its comrades in the land of serfdom, and several thousand dollars were collected, to be used in aiding the downfall of the czar's government.

The gathering in the grove looked like an assemblage of uncompromising anarchists. Everywhere the red badge was worn. A thousand pretty girls wore the red emblem in the bows upon their corsage, or in knotting their brown ringlets. Young men affected scarlet cravats, and older men made no attempt to conceal the long ribbons of red which fluttered from the lapels of their coats. Red is the badge of the revolutionary society in Pittsburgh, because red is the sacred emblem of the revolutionists who are holding the torch of the civil uprising before the guarded windows of the guarded windows of the Tsarkoe-Selo.

Pretty girls were gowns of red and they were called first in the waltz—such a waltz as could be danced to music like "Doubinushka," the hymn of the revolutionists; the "Warshawonky," the tune which was heard in Odessa when the guns of the Kniaz Potemkine roared across the Black sea, and the "Marseillaise."

When the revolutionists did not dance they gathered under the lurid lanterns in the lawn and lifted their voices in folk songs which they had heard in the streets of their fatherland when the Cossacks charged upon the people and the streets ran with blood, drying the banners of the revolutionists a deeper hue. The money raised last night will be sent to Dr. Gribovsky, the revolutionist delegate in New York. Pittsburgh is the first city outside of Russia to offer material aid to those who are fighting for freedom.

LOCAL FIRM SECURES BIG SIGNAL CONTRACT

Lake Shore Orders Automatic Electric Appliances for 400 Miles of Main Line.

A contract has just been awarded by the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railway Company to the Union Switch and Signal Company for the building and installation of a signal system from a point east of Cleveland to Chicago. The length of line is about 400 miles.

The system will be built for the double-track line for the entire distance, while at a number of points there will have to be constructed signal bridges for four or more tracks. The contract amounts to more than $1,000,000 and is one of the largest signaling contracts ever given by a railroad company. The signals will be similar to those of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, in being automatic electric in operation.

Col. H. G. Prout, first vice president and general manager of the Union Switch and Signal Company, said that the signal company's plant at Swissvale is now busier than it has ever been before, some of the departments working night and day. There are about 1,400 men employed there.

Among other large contracts the signal company is just filling is that for the installation of a complete electric power system on the lines of the Long Island railroad. On these lines the signal system is similar to that which the local signal company installed in the subway in New York.

DOGS SAVE MAN'S LIFE.

Tear Off His Trousers, but Keep Him from Plunging Down a Shaft.

ST. LOUIS, July 25.—(Special.)—Two dogs, owned by W. C. Kennedy, engineer at the Home Trade mine, in Edwardsville, probably saved a man's life yesterday evening. Kennedy had been away from the mine, and on returning discovered a man trying to climb over the railing which surrounded the shaft pit, but was caught by the dogs and stripped of his trousers.

Kennedy dragged the man away and sent for a policeman. The man was later said to be insane. He gave his name as B. J. O'Donnell of Pittsburgh, Pa.

BRICKS ARE CONDEMNED.

Millvale Councilmen Say They Are Defective and Reject 10 Carloads.

Ten carloads of Redlo pressed bricks taken to Millvale for paving North and Grant avenues by the Sawders Paving and Construction Company, were condemned yesterday by the street committee of Millvale council. The bricks are claimed to be defective on account of fire cracks, many being soft and of irregular sizes and not according to specifications. Eight carloads were condemned before they were unloaded, and the remaining two carloads after being distributed along the sidewalks.

The contractors claim the bricks are as specified and that the brick company will give bond that they prove satisfactory. The men continued unloading bricks all day.

PRESIDENT OBJECTS TO USE OF HIS PICTURE

SPOKANE, WASH., July 25.—President Roosevelt has objected to Spokane literature bearing his portrait on the title page. Secretary Monroe of the chamber of commerce received a letter requesting the withdrawal of the brochure on the "Lewis and Clark Trail" from publication. The chamber of commerce at a special meeting today canceled an order for 50,000 copies of the pamphlets and took steps to call in, as far as possible, those distributed.

BURIED A PAUPER; FUNDS TURN UP

Photograph of Disinterred Man to Be Used as Evidence in Bank Suit.

NO. 1 COURT HAS A MYSTERY

The man was buried as an unknown pauper by the Allegheny county authorities. Four weeks afterward the remains were disinterred and photographed. At that time the remains were identified as those of a man who had a goodly sum of money on deposit in a bank and the photograph is to be produced in court as that of Ignat Remchus in the suit of the South Side Trust Company, administrator of the estate of Remchus—whose whereabouts are unknown in case the disinterred remains are not him—against the First National bank of Wilson. The suit was filed yesterday in court of common pleas No. 1 by Attorneys Carney and Martin, who represent the trust company.

The important question for the court to decide in this case, and in which it will be assisted by the photograph of the disinterred body, is whether or not Ignat Remchus and "Mike" Prendezysr are one and the same person. The bank at Wilson is not satisfied, although the trust company claims it can surely prove that the money on deposit belongs to it as administrator of the estate, and which it proposes, as soon as possession of the same is obtained, to send to Remchus' sole legatee, his aged mother in far-away Lithuania.

Remchus' Death a Mystery.

Mystery surrounds the death of Remchus. Many of those who knew him in life believe that he was foully murdered by members of a band of thugs who operate along the Monongahela valley and that afterward his body was placed on a railroad track to be mangled by a passing train and thereby convey the impression that he came to his death by being struck by a train.

Shortly after the trust company took out letters on the estate of Ignat Remchus, after having had his body disinterred, it was discovered that a Lithuanian named "Mike" Prendezysr, who worked at Wilson, Pa., was missing. A short item in the papers to the effect that an unknown man had been found dead near Dravosburg, on the Monongahela division of the Pennsylvania railroad, December 8, 1904, and the body taken to the Allegheny county morgue, led the man with whom Prendezysr boarded to investigate. He arrived at the morgue too late to see the body, which had been buried as an "unknown" on December 8, 1904. From a description in the morgue records, however, the boardinghouse keeper decided it was his boarder, Remchus. He was known to only a few as Prendezysr.

When the trust company was granted letters it was given the effects of Remchus among which was a passbook, showing money on deposit in the First National bank of Wilson, Pa., in the name of "Mike" Prendezysr. The trust company claimed this formed a part of the assets of the estate of Remchus, they alleging he went under both names, as many foreigners do, but the bank declined to pay the same.

Photographed the Corpse.

In order to establish the complete identity of Remchus, the body of the unknown Lithuanian was dug up and found to be in a complete state of preservation, although this was four weeks after he was killed. A photograph was taken and the body was positively identified as Remchus by the boardinghouse keeper and the foreman of the shop in which he had worked. Those who knew "Mike" Prendezysr also identified him as the same man.

The trust company claims the decedent was unable to read, write or speak English, and believes he was not accompanied by any of his countrymen familiar with the English language when his bank account was opened. They claim that it is a frequent practice in the employment of foreigners unable to speak the English language, that their names are changed and sometimes bear no relation to their actual name. They say their claim against the bank is further strengthened by the fact that the bank account was opened on May 21, 1904, and the next succeeding deposits were made July 9, August 20, September 24 and October 22; that the loss of the passbook has not been reported by any one nor has any other person made claim for the amount of the deposit.

BURGLAR GETS IMPRESSION.

Intruder Upon Simple Life Is Party to a Woodshed Interview.

Bull's Run is a bad one-night stand for a professional burglar to play, and this fact was vividly brought to light early Monday night when John T. Sylvester, a wealthy farmer of that place, presided at a barnstorming that caused his understudy to rebel.

Sylvester had returned home at a late hour from McKeesport, and as the farm chickens retire early, he removed his shoes in the pasture and made his way to the house and his room, on tiptoe. The monotony of the night was broken as he entered and saw a man industriously searching through his bureau. Sylvester stole upon the intruder and embracing him with the strangle hold, carried him out into the yard on his back. In accord with long-established farm ethics, he took the disorderly one out into the woodshed and there forcefully applied all the logic that was in a blacksnake whip. The would-be burglar was then permitted to depart and carried with him marked impressions—on his back.

SPEED AFFECTS FENDERS.

Director Moore Waiting for a Report from a Councilmanic Committee.

Safety Director Moore is anxious that the sub-committee of councils makes some report on the ordinance regulating the speed of street cars. Its finding will have much to do with the selection of fenders to be used on the cars. Director Moore said many of the fenders tested were practical at a low speed. The fenders would be useless when cars are running 15 or 20 miles an hour. Cars running slowly will pick up bodies, but running at a high speed would grind them under the wheels.

Excellence and Elegance.

Mr. G. T. Bell, general passenger and ticket agent of the Grand Trunk railway system, is frequently in receipt of communications from patrons eulogizing the service that is found on Canada's great double track railway. An unsolicited letter of recent date reads as follows:

"I have just returned from the Pacific coast and it may interest you to know that my wife and I immensely enjoyed the run over your road, and you must admit that when a woman is pleased and delighted, she receives something that has the classic touch of excellence and elegance. I am inclined to think that the railroad that pleases a woman is pretty near perfection."

Another letter from a physician of Aiken, South Carolina, reads:

"I had the pleasure of traveling over your line from Portland, Me., to Detroit, Mich., and have no hesitation in saying that your roadbed is one of the smoothest I have ever been on and the night from Montreal to Toronto, the train was as steady as if one had been in a hotel."

The travel over the Grand Trunk is increasing every year and as the excellence of this railroad is becoming known more and more, travelers from all parts are taking the opportunity of riding on the fast trains which this line is noted for in Canada and over their double track route between the principal cities of the east and west.

"There is no dishonor in true economy. Therefore do not hesitate to systematically save and bank with the Pittsburgh Bank for Savings, Fourth avenue and Smithfield street, at four per cent interest, a fixed portion of every earned dollar.

DEATH LIST NOT YET COMPLETED

Number of Bennington Survivors Still Battling Between Life and Death.

WILL HAVE NO SCAPEGOAT

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SAN DIEGO, July 25.—There is little hope that the burial chapter of the Bennington accident is finally closed, for half a dozen badly injured sailors are lingering between life and death and for some of them there is little chance for recovery. The six men who are battling bravely for life are receiving every comfort and assistance that skill and sympathy can give. A well-equipped temporary hospital has been arranged at the army barracks in the city and to this all the injured who could be safely moved were taken from the hospitals last night. The sufferers are not in want of comforts or whatever luxuries are good for them. Flowers, fruit and delicacies, with cigars for those who are permitted to smoke, are offered in abundance to cheer them.

The removal of the Bennington to a position alongside a pier will facilitate examination of her interior. The supply ship Iris from San Francisco arrived this morning. She has on board divers and diving outfits. All of the equipment, including the ammunition and batteries, with the exception of the main guns and mounts, will be transferred in order to lighter the Bennington sufficiently to permit the making of repairs that will allow the vessel to be towed to Mare island.

Constructor Evans Reports.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—A brief report of a preliminary examination by Naval Constructor Evans of the inside of the gunboat Bennington, was received at the navy department today from Capt. Drake of the Mare island navy yard, who is now at San Diego. Capt. Drake's full dispatch follows:

San Diego, July 25.

Constructor Evans made a preliminary examination of Bennington inside; finds no leaks through hull plating; all leaks through sea valves and broken pipes stopped. Present list to starboard due to shifting of boilers B and D, and some free water below berth deck in intercostal spaces. Will pump this water out by hand pumps, then trim even keel; transfer unnecessary equipment to Iris to make examination outside hull with divers; secure boilers; clean up living quarters, then, if constructor satisfied, tow Bennington with Iris to Mare Island. Fortune escorting. Wounded remain in charge naval surgeons until transferred to naval hospital at Mare Island. Surgeons McCullough, Kindleberger and Lieutenants Mitchell and Latimer reported last night and will relieve civilian doctors as soon as possible.

Will Be No Scapegoat.

The steam log of the Bennington for the second quarter, covering the period between March 30 and June 30, was received at navy department today. This does not include the trip from Honolulu to San Diego, but will show the report of the inspection for that quarter. The department concluded not to make public these records until after the investigating board is convened by Rear Admiral Goodrich at San Diego.

Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte, when asked today for a statement on the subject of the disaster to the Bennington, promised the public that there would be no whitewash and that so far as the service itself was concerned he would make a scapegoat of no one. He said:

"The department is not yet ready to make any statement as to the proable or possible causes of the disaster. When the facts are the latter known and a reasonable basis for an intelligent opinion may perhaps exist the department will hold back no information, its possession to which any fair-minded man could think the public entitled. For the moment I wish to urge by example as well as by precept on every one, whether in or out of the service, the advisability and even duty of refraining from loose, unwise and untruthful talk on a subject so delicate, so hard to understand, so painful. I ask all good citizens to have patience, and if it shall appear that there has been failure of duty on the part of anyone, I promise the public that no one shall be whitewashed and the service that nobody shall be made a scapegoat."

The navy department today received the following dispatch from Capt. Drake, at San Diego, Cal.

Iris arrived. No more deaths. Wounded improving. Strange (Peter) ordinary seaman, turned up this morning alive; was counted as unidentified dead. Complete list survivors forwarded by mail last night.

A telegram received at the navy department over night from Capt. Drake states that the Bennington was floated yesterday, and is now alongside the wharf. He adds that a thorough examination of the ship will be made today.

TO ASK HUMANE SOCIETY TO HELP ENFORCE HIS BILL.

Representative Edlis Despairs of Getting Police Aid to End the White Slave Traffic.

Representative Adolph Edlis of the Seventh ward, who has returned from a vacation trip, has announced his intention of asking the Humane society to assist in enforcing his bill, which provides for a fine of not more than $1,000 or imprisonment not exceeding three years upon men who subsist upon unfortunate women.

Mr. Edlis declared yesterday that he has despaired of getting police assistance, and since hearing of the statement of Hugh O'Donnell to the Ministerial association to the effect that 500 men in one ward were living from the white slave traffic, he is determined to rid his ward of suspicion.

Replying to Superintendent Wallace's contention that the bill will not provide for the driving away of these men, Representative Edlis said yesterday that the police had the power to hold men without visible means of support for court and have the bill tested, rather than imposing light fines.

"I would like to know if such men pay their fines or are sentenced to the workhouse without ever making the trip. He knows them all, I believe, just as he knows where the houses of ill-fame owned by these men are located."

WILD WEST IN NEW YORK.

Attempt to Hold Up Express on the New York Central Frustrated by the Police.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., July 25.—A holdup of one of the Central's express trains was probably frustrated here today. The local agent received word from Albany to have police at the station when the American Express train passed through here at 12:36, as there were several men aboard and fears were entertained that robbery was intended.

When the train was brought to a halt several officers were on the scene. In an instant a dozen different men were seen jumping off the train into the darkness. The officers could do nothing against the crowd, and although they fired several shots there was no capture.

INVASION OF ALLEGHENY.

Young Pittsburghers Start Things in Robinson Street and One Is Captured.

Half a dozen young fellows from Pittsburgh started to clean up West Robinson street, Allegheny, yesterday afternoon. They pushed pedestrians off the sidewalks, struck people with their fists and knocked a pack off a peddler's back.

Police Lieutenant Bolland came along and the young bloods made an effort to get back to this side of the river. All of them succeeded, except Hugh Flaherty, aged 15, of Meyran avenue, by jumping on street cars. Flaherty, the youngest in the crowd, was sent to Central station for a hearing this morning.

CHILD LABOR LAW BEING ENFORCED

The Measure Was Not Intended to Be Retroactive, and So Understood by Legislature.

COMPLAINTS ATTENDED TO

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
HARRISBURG, PA., July 25.

"The age limit of the new factory act was not intended to be retroactive in its effect; this was clearly understood by the senate and the house committees and by representatives of industrial establishments."

This statement was made today by State Factory Inspector Delaney in speaking of the complaint of the organized textile workers of Philadelphia that the factory inspectors are not enforcing the law passed by the recent legislature to abolish child labor in Pennsylvania factories and workshops.

"The reason no date was prescribed for the age limit to take effect," continued Inspector Delaney, "was to deter parties from a general issuing of employment certificates to children under 14 years between the date of the introduction of the bill and the date fixed, had one been fixed when the act was to go into effect. The bill introduced by the child labor organization fixed the date when children under 14 years could not be employed at January 1, 1906. This bill, though not passed, showed the sentiment of that organization as having been against a retroactive measure."

Inspector Delaney says that, as a matter of fact, there were but few children who obtained employment certificates under the act of 1901, while under the age of 14 years, who were not past that age when the act of 1905 was promulgated as having gone into effect. Were those discharged who had not reached the age of 14 years they could not again obtain employment before the age of 16 years because of their absence from school during the time when employed.

Inspector Delaney also says that no school teacher could justly certify that those children had completed a course of study prescribed for the first five years in the common schools or schools equivalent thereto, a statement which the present law demands before a certificate can issue.

"To thrust those children on the street," he continued, "after they had obtained certificates under the act of 1901, and were working under the protection of the same in good faith, would necessarily entail hardships upon the children and their parents without any compensating benefit to children, parents or the commonwealth. It is often the case, too, that the employment of adults depends in a great measure upon the labor performed by children in the same establishment. In the spinning and spooling departments of silk establishments the labor of children there is the basis of some localities for the employment given to adults in the silk weaving establishments. In many of the glassmaking establishments the labor of children is a matter of necessity, and were these children summarily discharged the adult force would be thrown out of work.

"Employers have rights, too, which demand respect. Having employed children in strict compliance with the child labor provisions of the act of 1901, having imparted to those children the knowledge necessary to their employment and often at expense of time and money, and rightfully looking forward to some return, and in many localities not able to make substitutions because of the scarcity of children, it would serve no good purpose to summarily discharge those children simply because they were a few months, weeks or days under the age of 14 years when the act of May 2, 1905, was enacted."

Inspector Delaney says that his department has no certain knowledge that any child under the age of 14 years is employed. There has not been a specific instance given where such children are employed. The letter sent to Inspector Delaney by the textile union officials was of a general character only, for in not one instance was the name of any child given or the address of the child. The charge of the textile workers that the factory inspectors disregard violations of child labor in Philadelphia are now being investigated by two special deputies, neither of whom has been heretofore attached to that district in which the law is alleged to have been violated.

"In every instance," concluded Inspector Delaney, "where complaints have been made of infractions of the law, the department has instituted special investigation. The complaints and copies of my replies thereto are filed in the department, where they are open to inspection. The results of the investigations are also on file and they show that complaints are almost invariably founded upon misapprehension of the law or upon the statement of parties with a grievance based upon malice or a desire for notoriety."

SCOTT GOES TO JAIL.

Unable to Secure $3,000 Bail to Answer Five Charges of Forgery and False Pretense.

David Stewart Scott, who was arrested in St. Louis last week at the instance of Attorney George N. Chalfant, was arraigned twice yesterday at Central police station. In the morning he was taken before Magistrate Succop to answer to three charges of forgery and one of false pretense, made by Chalfant in behalf of Mrs. Scott, his wife. He waived a hearing, and was held in $2,000 bail.

In the afternoon Scott was arraigned before Magistrate Negley to answer another charge of forgery made by the City Deposit bank, where Scott had a check for $60 cashed. It was alleged he signed the name of his sister, Ella S. Brown, to it, and in this case he was held in an additional $1,600.

Being unable to furnish the bail Scott was committed to jail for court.

Knights of Columbus at Luna Park.

The Knights of Columbus held carnival at Luna park last evening, the occasion being a special concert given in their honor by Callahan's New York Marine band, which is playing a week's engagement at Luna. Director Callahan is a member of the Knights of Columbus, and a special number on his program last evening was a descriptive fantasie entitled "Columbus," descriptive of the discovery of America, which is his own composition, and which he has dedicated to Duquesne Council, Knights of Columbus, of this city. The composition was liberally applauded. During the intermission Director Callahan held an informal reception.

Prices on Trunks Reduced.

And this just when everybody is nightly poring over the list of Summer resorts, laying plans for a vacation of some weeks.

We wouldn't cut the prices on these trunks at this time—no, you can thank the manufacturer.

He notified us he had a lot of trunks that he would let us have for a consideration. Done, and the incident closed. The trunks are here and ready now, East Basement.

A Black and Blue Proposition for Men

$20.00 Black and Blue Suits now $14.50.
$25.00 Black and Blue Suits now $18.75.
$30.00 Black and Blue Suits now $22.50.

Sizes for the man of large girth as well as the all round stoutish man. Sizes for the small man and the man of medium build.

The best news we have given men yet. Last week we reduced all our men's fancy suits one-third. As a rule suits of such staple colors as plain black and plain blue are seldom reduced in price; but, there being a great number of men who will wear none other than plain colors, we conceded the right to them to enjoy the same reductions as their fellows who pre erred fancy suits. Therefore, today you can buy single-breasted and double-breasted plain blue suits and plain black suits for the foregoing reductions.

The material of which these suits are made is cheviot. Please remember that. There is not a complete line of every size, but a splendid collection, taking all the sizes together. Some of the coats are half lined, others are full lined with mohair or with silk. Again, be good enough to make a mental note that it is only the black and blue cheviot suits that are reduced.

If you would like a new fancy vest to wear with your new suit we have pleasure in stating that our entire stock of fancy vests is now offered at one-third off.

Sweeping Reductions on Women's Ready-to-Wear Garments.

Sweeping? Rather. $9.75 for cloth suits formerly $20.00 to $35.00. Sweeping? $10.00 for $25.00 Silk Shirtwaist Dresses! Sweeping? $5.00 for a $12.00 Skirt! Sweeping? And, if we chose, we could go on calling off a good many more "sweeps," but they read much better when listed. Herewith a partial list:

Wednesday, July 26, 1905.

Mexico's new tariff appears to be constructed more for revenue than for protection to home industries. There are spots, however, where protection is obviously contemplated and some of these are directed toward the exclusion of American products. These, of course, are intended as an invitation to American capital to establish industries across the border.

Representative Edlis has paid his compliments to the police administration of the city, in connection with an appeal to the humane societies to undertake suppression of the white slave traffic in the Hill district. This traffic is one of the most revolting evils of modern city life. It is an importation from Europe and a most unwelcome one. No means should be neglected to suppress it, or to punish those who profit by it.

Magistrate Moke's liberation of specimens of street statuary, arrested under the general order of the superintendent of police, indicates another failure of the administration to harmonize in securing effective enforcement of salutary laws. But there are so many failures. The strictures of the courts on the dispensation of law by magistrates were sharply to the point, but it is another story whether they will induce better conditions.

In the protest of clergymen against the inequity of their personal tax assessments appears a cogent argument for the board of tax revision and assessment, as provided in the Woods bill. In the hands of a county board such glaring inequalities would be eliminated. They are the outcome of the differing opinions of local assessors, many of them incapable of forming a sound estimate. The complaint of the preachers is well founded and the matter should be remedied.

Judge Kennedy has approved the recommendation of the grand jury for the construction of a memorial hall in honor of the soldiers and sailors of Allegheny county. The subject will now be voted on by the people. There is no doubt the popular verdict will be favorable. This county is rich in the patriotism of its heroic sons, and has been second to none in its quota given to the defense of the nation. The same spirit is alive today and gives honor to the heroes who have gone before.

While there are unfavorable conditions in restricted localities, the crop report issued yesterday is distinctly encouraging. Winter wheat has yielded the largest harvest for some years and spring wheat is in good condition. Corn in nearly all sections has made excellent progress, the exceptions being from drouth. There is almost absolute assurance of an abundance of food products and unusual railroad tonnage in moving them during the remainder of the year. These are large factors in prosperity.

It is natural to expect that attempts would be made to evade such a rigorous anti-cigarette law as Indiana passed, but its provisions have by no means been rendered ineffective. The decision allowing cigarettes to be imported on the ground that to exclude them would interfere with interstate commerce has been the principal means of providing those who are addicted to the cigarette habit. But any law that makes a traffic difficult and dangerous tends to decrease sales no matter what the critics may say.

Jamestown does not wish to be outdone by the floral display at the Portland exposition and for the centennial of 1907 promises to have a still more gorgeous landscape along Hampton Roads from Norfolk to Fortress Monroe. Honeysuckles and roses will be the feature and these flowers will peep from hedges and vines along wire fences. In both these cases the flowers grow readily in the soil and climate and add much to the attractiveness of the surroundings. The necessity of cultivating them a year or two before the gates open stirs the people to activity in making other preparations for the show, and the Jamestown exhibit promises many novelties.

A Decision Needed.

There is ample reason for pressing the suit of Attorney R. H. Jackson to fully determine the status of the act creating a board of tax revision and assessment in this county. The county commissioners are to be commended for joining in the action. The present conditions are chaotic, there being doubt about the legality of the appointment of a board under the act and doubt about the legality of assessments returned in the old way. It is a fair presumption that an assessment made according to custom will stand even if the new law is sustained, but there should be no assumption in lieu of certainty in so important a matter.

Reason enough has been advanced in support of the new statute to support belief in its constitutionality, the inaction of the judges of common pleas courts to the contrary notwithstanding. The constitution does not, in express terms, prohibit county officers to be filled by appointment. Under the law a prison board exists, composed in part of judges of the courts, which has the power of appointment of a jail warden, a jail physician, a superintendent of the workhouse and of other officers. The district attorney is empowered to appoint county detectives.

Why should not the judges be constituted a board to appoint a board of tax assessment and revision? May not a board create another board under authority of law? It is true the constitution refers to the election of county officers and names those to be elected. This clause may be construed to mean that all county officers must be elected, but in view of the practice in appointments by the prison board, such construction is not altogether logical. If objection be raised to the new law on the ground that it is special and local legislation the contention would be more forceful—especially in view of the decision on the Greater Pittsburgh bill—and that is an additional reason why the matter should be finally adjudicated. The purpose of the act is good.

Porto Rico's Plaint.

Porto Rico is not happy. It wants more home rule. It has forgotten Spanish oppression. It would be a self-governing state. There is enough of reason in the complaint formulated by the convention assembled in San Juan to entitle it to consideration. The objection to the executive council is that its members land without knowledge of the language, customs or resources of the island and proceed at once to legislate for it. There is some truth and force in the objection.

At the same time it must be understood that Porto Rico is not yet capable of ordering its own affairs without let or hindrance. It accorded that privilege it would probably do itself more harm than it suffers at the hands of the executive council. It would seem wise to make a compromise. Porto Rico is learning. It might be allowed to control half of the executive council, or it might be granted the senate it asks, provided the governor retains an absolute veto power and is empowered, in addition, to take action in the event of a deadlock in essential measures. The bird ought to try its pinions before it undertakes empyrean flight. It will be well to give Porto Rico wider latitude of action, but only under the careful guidance of the firm hand of the United States.

Hump Facts and Fancies.

There is so much pointed truth and good common sense in the comment of W. S. Guffey on the hump project that we commend his interview for careful reading. Mr. Guffey is interested as a citizen and property holder. He has given the subject more thought than most people and he has not been blinded by prejudice or self-interest. The questions he asked through the chamber of commerce were pertinent and proper; the information he sought is essential to a true estimate of cost, or appreciation of the magnitude of the undertaking.

In the degree to which they have given the matter attention, other citizens will take the same view as Mr. Guffey. They did so last year when they voted down the proposition. Director Bigelow is apparently aware of this fact, though some other of the extreme cut advocates appear incapable of realizing the hopelessness of forcing the project through regardless of any interest other than their own. Their ideas have grown from the standard of reduction accepted 20 years ago, until they now refer to the grade on which the court house was built as a mere scratch of the surface. It is time for them to back up a little and try to recover their reason.

Shedding a Little Light.

Mr. Almar Sato, spokesman for the Japanese peace delegation, has given out another statement. It is the nearest approach yet made to disclosure of the Japanese peace terms and in that respect is important. Mr. Sato says he is confident peace will result from the approaching negotiations. Japan and Russia both desire peace, he says, and the Japanese demands will be as moderate as they can reasonably be made under the circumstances. The losses in men, he continues, have been about 570,000 and of these the Russians have lost 370,000, and as the money cost to Japan is fully $1,000,000 a day, Russia will be expected to pay some portion in the form of indemnity.

Mr. Sato is even more specific in speaking of the Russian plenipotentiaries. He declares that Japan esteems M. Witte most highly and Russia could have made no more satisfactory selection. Baron Rosen, former minister to Japan, is esteemed there next to M. Witte. He leaves the inference that the personality of the Russian envoys will facilitate the negotiations and this circumstance makes him more hopeful of the outcome.

The Gazette is disposed to accept Mr. Sato's statement as candid. It does this the more readily because it accords with the facts as they have been presented in these columns. The selection of M. Witte as chief envoy by Russia was the most hopeful sign after the negotiations began, while the friendly relations between Baron Rosen and Japan are too well known to need comment.

Mr. Sato's further remarks concerning the feeling of Japan toward the United States and President Roosevelt, his indorsement of the "open door" and his comment on the Philippine bugaboo may be estimated according to their worth. They are intended to flatter the American people, but there is in them an element of truthful assurance, in accord with the past relations of the two countries.

Good Steel Business.

At the meeting of the board of directors of the United States Steel Corporation, the usual dividend on the preferred stock was declared. At the same time a most encouraging statement was made public. It shows earnings of more than $30,000,000 for the quarter ending June 30, an increase of nearly $7,000,000 over the preceding quarter and of $11,000,000 over the second quarter last year. In other words, the fixed charges and preferred dividend were earned, with a surplus of more than $10,000,000.

Not less significant than the good earnings of the three months is the showing of orders booked for future delivery. These aggregate a little less than 5,000,000 tons, much of the highest grade finished products turned out by the concern. When it is remembered the largest year's output of pig iron in this country has been less than 13,000,000 tons and the annual product of Great Britain or Germany is less than 8,000,000 tons of pig iron, the significance of 5,000,000 tons of finished product may be realized. It means very good business for the corporation during the last half of the year, not to mention the fact that orders are increasing and the demand for delivery is becoming more urgent.

Norway and Sweden.

A report has been made by the riksdag committee appointed to consider the government bill for the separation of Norway and Sweden. The report is adverse. The committee does not oppose separation, but insists on a different mode of procedure. It wants a new deal, to begin all over again and reach dissolution of the union by formal steps. In short, the riksdag committee declares the Norwegian storthing has no authority to declare the union dissolved, but must petition for such action as will result in separation of the two states.

Legally the attitude of the riksdag committee is correct. In point of fact, however, revolutionary proceedings rarely take much account of strictly legal and formal procedures. In this case it is not improbable Norway may recognize the objection of the riksdag committee and act accordingly. The Scandinavian peoples are not impulsive or hot-headed by nature, though thoroughly warlike when roused. In any event there is no prospect of immediate reunion.

While the proceedings are dragging in the peninsula the United States government is being unofficially importuned to give recognition to Norway. The matter has been passed up to President Roosevelt. The riksdag committee report comes as a fresh complication, for if American recognition should be granted and then Norway should accede to the committee view, this country would be put in the position of having recognized a nation before it had a de facto government.

For several days the hump cut advocates have not mentioned South Side bridges. Can it be this item in the "scientific campaign of education" has been dropped because the preliminary estimates were so greatly exceeded?

Brig.-Gen. Thomas H. Barry, now in Manchuria with the Russian army, has been ordered home to become president of the war college in Washington. He ought to be a master hand at filling the "chair of retreats."

Secretary Taft was given a genuinely Japanese reception on his arrival in Japan—firecrackers and things. When the Japanese or Chinese shoot firecrackers in honor of anyone, they are glad.

There is at least one strenuous advocate of the whipping post in Allegheny county, and there will be a general chorus of "More power to the arm of Farmer Sylvester."

Controller Larkin must be an expert in engineering. In two hours he viewed the filtration site and work and is confident he can save $50,000 on it.

A large number of suggestions have been made to Gov. Pennypacker by the opposition press, but the governor retains the appointing power.

These scientists who contend for deficiency in temperature concurrently with sun spots, appear to have the weather with them just now.

There are a great many people who do not in practice agree with the legal presumption of innocence until guilt is proven.

Now the Memorial hall is up to the people. They render the final decision. Can anyone doubt it will be favorable?

Senator Mitchell has appealed. Many persons doubt his good judgment in not being content with so light a penalty.

Count Cassini continues in the belief that this country is mistaken, or is a mistake, or something of that sort.

Some things are different since the "Fads and Fancies" denouement became one of the topics of the town.

Naturally the Leader wants to know what business it is of Mr. Frick's whether the hump is cut or not.

A revised cotton report will be out today. Need it be said there have been no leaks this time?

To New Orleans the visage of Yellow Jack is as menacing as of yore.

W. S. Guffey points the truth so clearly there is no mistaking it.

Director Bigelow probably needed the rest, anyway.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Boys and girls will be boys and girls in spite of all, but some will be more boyish and girlish than others, and some are boys and girls longer than others.

There are parents who don't seem to have any use for boys and girls, but as soon as their children are out of their baby clothes they begin trying to convert them into men and women.

This isn't according to nature's plan, and when you go against nature you are going against the biggest thing there is, and your defeat is assured from the moment you begin operations.

It is neither wise nor safe to compel boys and girls to act like men and women, for to do so is to rob them of the most pleasant and useful part of their lives. Besides, it ages them prematurely, not only in body but in heart, and when the heart is old man or woman is superannuated and of but little use to the world.

No doubt you know some people who are old in years, but as young in their feelings as they ever were. These drank long and deep from the fountain of youth, so long and so deeply that they have never known old age, and never will, save as a bodily ailment.

Keep them boys and girls as long as you can, and in no way encourage them to grow old, nor to expect deference and respect because of old age. If thus kept they will mature slowly and stay ripe and useful for a long time, nor will they be giddy and foolish like those who affect youthful ways.

* * *

You may have noted the fact that boys who are little men, having been taught manlike manners, usually remain little men, not being able to overcome, or to get away from the ways in which they were taught and trained.

And not infrequently they make mistakes in their efforts to be like men that unfit them for the duties which devolve on most real men.

Girls who are not allowed to be girls until they naturally become women, but are told that they are little ladies, usually develop into the old maid type.

Girls have as much right to run and romp, sing and play, and do canticos as boys have, and they are all the better for it. Tomboys usually develop into much more desirable women than do ladylike girls.

Tomboys are not necessarily coarse or vulgar, nor do they lack in refinement or culture because they associate with boys. In fact the girl that is reared among boys, has boys for playmates and companions, is much better fitted to go out into the world among men than is her ladylike sister or aunt.

This girl will know a thing or two—a whole lot of things—that the other doesn't know. She will know a decent, respectable, gentle boy from one who is bad, and by the same token she will be able to distinguish a gentleman—a decent, respectable, gentleman—while the other will be easily deceived and misled by outer appearances.

The tomboy may be sunburnt, freckled, or muscular, while the other has a peachy complexion and of more esthetic form, but these don't count for much when she takes her place in the world as wife and mother.

* * *

"What is the matter with the girls and boys of today?" asks a "Butler Citizen." "They are not as boys and girls were in my day, and I often wonder why.

"Girls used to be girls much longer than they are now, and they were taught all sorts of work by their mothers. Our mothers were hardier than mothers are now, and I think it was because they had been taught to work, and had married men who had to work.

"In all my experience I never knew a husband and wife, both of whom had been brought up by industrious, honest parents, who did not succeed in building up a good home, besides being a credit to the community in which they lived.

"I could take you to homes in Butler county that were built from the ground up by such men and women, and they are the best homes in the county. And when I look around I see that the best men in the county and state came from these homes, and not from homes ready-made and waiting for young married people.

"Sometimes I have thought there is too much schooling, but maybe it is not too much, but not enough of the right sort.

"I know girls now who are trying to learn to play the piano, and to typewrite, who ought to be learning to make their own clothes, to bake bread, and to do the things which would make them of some use in the world.

"And there are boys going around playing the gentleman, or rather the loafer, who ought to be picking brush, hoeing or reaping.

"The coming crop of men and women in Butler county is not as promising as I have seen in my time."

* * *

This citizen hardly lives among the soap mines, but rather hails from the more enlightened section of the great county.

It used to be said that Butler county furnished much of the brain and brawn that made Pittsburgh famous. Anyway, it is a fact that it furnished a goodly number of the leading members of the various professions, and some of the rougher and tougher element, too.

In estimating the influence, or the value of any section, we usually figure on the good people, throwing out the bad, the same as in the selection of corn in the ear, or fish in the net.

That there is a marked departure from the old standards there can be no doubt, but whether the change is due to decadence in health and morals, or to the natural changes in the times, is something that cannot be answered offhand.

Nor should anyone attempt to answer it without first making diligent inquiry as to the exact facts.

First and foremost it should be safely and finally settled whether the men and women, and the boys and girls, of today are really below the standard established by those whom we are wont to look upon as worthy models.

There isn't the attention given to this matter that it deserves, or that the times demand. We are too much taken up with money-making for ourselves to bother with such things. In fact, we seem to be controlled by the old rule: "Every fellow for himself, and the devil take the hindermost."

* * *

Our Butler friend should remember that conditions are very different from what they were when he was a boy.

Since then Butler county has changed from one of the poorest to one of the richest rural counties in the state, and that the character of its population was greatly changed by the influx of people due to the oil excitement.

And then Butler town has risen to the dignity of a manufacturing center, which means several thousand men and women such as had never been known there before. This is true of manufacturing or boom towns everywhere.

Much of the increased population is not of the sort of which good citizens are made. This element has to be dealt with, and in order to do so successfully it has to be thoroughly understood. Much improvement of the adult portion cannot be expected, so that the greater effort must be directed toward the children.

The problems which now confront the Butlerite are vastly different from those which confronted the forebears of our correspondent, or confronted him when he started out in life, and with which he wrestled as a good and efficient citizen.

Whether he and his compeers are as well qualified to wrestle with present problems as are those who have grown up with them, is a question that he should take into account.

Were conditions similar to those under which he was born, and with which he was familiar as a boy, and under which he spent his early manhood, he would be no comic worthy of being heard and heeded.

Reliable Summer Resort Wanted.

Those who doubt the practical value of Mr. Perry's researches or ridicule the world's need of a really reliable summer resort.—Washington Star.

TALKED OF IN GOTHAM

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Direct Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 26.—During a wedding in Billing's hall, Brooklyn, at an early hour today, Henry Ross was kicked to death in a fight growing out of jealousy. Ross, who had been invited to the wedding, was, it is said, too attentive to the wife of Frank Sinoski, another guest. Sinoski resented this and the two men got into a scuffle. Ross was getting the best of it when Sinoski's friends interfered and knocked Ross down. While Ross lay on the floor half a dozen of the combatants are said to have kicked him on the head, fracturing his skull. There were about 50 couples in the hall at the time. The women became panic-stricken and ran screaming to the street. Ross was taken to Seney hospital, where he died. Sinoski and two of his friends were arrested and the police said that more arrests would follow.

Falls From Brooklyn Bridge.

While attempting to shift a scaffold on which a gang of riveters and painters were working and painting on the Brooklyn bridge, Joseph Kuhn, 38 years old, a riveter, fell over the edge of the structure and plunged head downward into the river, 90 feet below. His body did not come up. Kuhn was married and lived with his wife and family in Long Island City. He was a riveter in the employ of the bridge department, and with the other riveters was working on the scaffolding between the elevated tracks. His death was entirely accidental, according to his fellow workmen, who say that the man missed his hold on the edge of the platform and plunged over. He descended with terrific force, cleaving the air and disappearing beneath the water like a shot. Although the men high above on the bridge and men on boats in the river watched for the man to reappear, he failed to come up.

Registered Mail Thief Caught.

After months of investigation Chief Postoffice Inspector Mayer and Inspector Boyle today caused the arrest of John J. Callahan, chief clerk of the foreign branch of the general postoffice, on a charge of abstracting mail from foreign registered letters. Callahan was arraigned before United States Commissioner Shields and held in $2,500 bail for examination. He furnished the security. For many months the postal authorities have had complaints that registered letters to Sweden and Norway arrived at their destination with their valuable contents abstracted. Callahan's arrest was brought about through a test letter which, it is alleged, was found in his possession.

Woman Rioters Indicted.

For the first time in a generation, it is said, the grand jury of New York county has returned indictments against women for rioting. The indictments were in connection with the recent race troubles on "San Juan Hill," in the neighborhood of sixty-second street and Amsterdam avenue. They were arrested on the night of July 14. They are declared to have incited the riot and to have engaged in rioting by throwing bricks and stones.

Falls Dead Beside Bier.

Mrs. Catherine Sheron of Williamsburg died of a broken heart this afternoon, falling over the casket of her 11-year-old daughter May, whose death occurred of typhoid fever. The child had been ill for several weeks, and the mother with great devotion had never left her daughter's side. She grieved constantly over her illness, and from the moment the child died the woman failed perceptibly. She was weeping beside the remains of the little girl this afternoon when, without a word, she fell over the inanimate form, and by the time physicians arrived she was dead.

Strike Violence in Chicago.

The public will esteem the expensiveness of the strike of small moment and forget it quickly if it can be assured that there will be no return to the violence and criminal policy which has cursed Chicago for years of tolerating violence in connection with strikes. If henceforth it is to be a rule of action with the municipal authorities to preserve peace and order under all circumstances and to suppress rioting the moment it begins without waiting for it to gain strength and spread the strike which has just ended will mark the beginning of better municipal government.—Chicago Tribune.

An Improved Outlook.

"Improved nothing," growled the pessimist who occupied the office and who always in the midst of hard times. "What d'you mean?"

"Why," said the other, "I saw right away that you have had your office windows cleaned."—New York Times.

A Revolution in Steam Engineering.

It is believed than in the next ten years steam engineering except for locomotives will have passed through a revolution that will be well nigh complete. This promises to be recorded as one of the great achievements of the first decade of the nineteenth century.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

BARNARDO'S HOMES

Recent Birthday of the English Philanthropist.

Dr. Thomas John Barnardo, the English philanthropist, recently celebrated his 60th birthday, which was made notable by public recognition of his work in rescuing homeless children and helping the poor to become self-supporting. His attention was first attracted to the condition of waifs in 1866, and since then he has established over 100 homes for them in England and Canada, besides maintaining an emigrant agency which sends the poor to homes in Canada, where they may become self-supporting. His principal center of activity is at Stepney in Ilford, where there are 51 cottages filled with children, many of them crippled. He is editor of the National Waif's magazine and of the Young Helpers' magazine, the organ of the society by that name, which he established in 1877. In connection with his birthday a representative of the London Mail secured this account from a talk with Dr. Barnardo about his work:

Up to date Dr. Barnardo is responsible for a huge family, numbering 8,000, all of them waifs, and no fewer than 1,500 of them babies of less than three years, while a large number were cripples. They had been gathered from the streets and the slums of every part of England, and every one of them when found had been destitute and starving in the midst of wealthy England. In the 25 years that he has been engaged in this work Dr. Barnardo's homes have rescued no fewer than 60,000 of these poor waifs. What would have become of them but for the institution, and what has become of them as the result of it?

An Incident Excites His Philanthropy.

"One story will illustrate that very simply and clearly for you," said Dr. Barnardo last night to me, writes one of our representatives. "Eighteen months or so ago a lad was brought before the magistrates in a western town. I may as well give you the name—it was Falmouth. He was charged with vagrancy, sleeping out, and having no visible means of subsistence. This was the third time he had been so charged, and he was only about 12 years of age. The magistrate did not know what to do with him. Being kind-hearted, they did not like to send him to prison. What else could they do? They sent him to the workhouse for a while. But when the time was up he was turned adrift again, and was very soon there once more before the bench. But this time he was charged with attempting to commit suicide. They asked him why he had dared so think of doing so dreadful a thing. Poor chap! He stood up and replied in a broken voice, 'No one cares whether I starve or not. No one will give me work. I am starving. I thought I had better end it.' Then they thought of me.

"When the lad reached me I spoke somewhat roughly to him just to test him. 'What good can I do you?' I said; 'you're lazy; you won't work.' 'Won't I,' he replied; 'you try me, sir.'

"Well, we sent him to our Labor home and soon he was reported to me as 'industrious, decent and honest.' He went to Canada. And here is a letter which says of him: 'He is a fine young fellow, doing well, and greatly respected.'

"There you have it in a nutshell. Eighteen months ago he was starving and attempting suicide, and no one would give him work. Now he is 'greatly respected.' What may he not become now? Here is a letter which shows the most likely possibility. It is from one who was a similar lad."

The letter was one of simple news from an old boy, who related how he was doing this year with his farm of 250 acres.

"Here, too, is a newspaper report which may interest you," continued the doctor, handing me a cutting.

It was from an Australian paper about the time when the prince and princess of Wales were making their empire tour. A banquet had been given and speeches highly felicitating the Hon. John Page, Federal member of parliament for Maranoa, N. S. W., were made. In reply, Mr. Page recalled how he had begun life as a waif in the old country, and owed his prosperity to the start which had been given him by his rescue and training in the homes of Dr. Barnardo at Stepney.

How the Institutions Were Started.

The starting of the homes is no less a romance than their enormous growth. Dr. Barnardo was a medical student at the time, attached to the London hospital, and was living in Stepney. One night late he found a little boy in rags sleeping on his doorstep. "You'll have your mother after you," said the rough doctor. "Aren't got no mother," replied the boy. "But why don't you go home?" "Ain't got no home." "Where's your father, then?" "Ain't got no father, neither." "Where do you live?" "Don't live nowhere." "But you must know somebody. Do you know any others who don't live nowhere?" "Cops and 'coss of 'em, sir." And so the homes were started with that one boy.

A little later Dr. Barnardo told the story one night that he was dining out, and his host and fellow guests, who included the late Lord Shaftesbury, drove with him in cabs to see the sights this poor little waif could show. A little house for 12 boys was taken, and Dr. Barnardo began his life's work for the nation's little outcasts.

His homes are always full, but the doors are never closed, and the waifs are gathered in at the rate of 12 to 15 a day. They are of all ages. The other day two little baby sisters, twins, only three weeks old, and penniless, found a foster parent in the Babies' home.

Before leaving I had a run round the workshops, and saw the boys making bread, boots, clothes, harness, dovetailing trunks for the boys who go to Canada, brushes and brooms, baskets, coffee pots and other tin things, and all sorts of wooden articles, including a handsome motor car, and a heavy van, and a broken Venetian blind, setting type and printing, while around me was the merry din of the youngsters at play, playing cricket and other games in the storeroom yard. The old home at Stepney Causeway is quite a little town; but it is only a small part of the homes now, for most of them are out in the beautiful country.

BOOZE OF PRUNES MADE AT THE PEN

Such Is Latest Tale Told Concerning the Doings of Riverside Penitentiary Convicts.

THE WARDEN'S STATEMENT

The latest story about peculiar doings inside the high gray walls of the Western penitentiary in lower Allegheny, is to the effect that several convicts have been found engaged in the manufacture of "booze" from the prunes which are liberally used in making up the bills of fare prepared for the wrongdoers who inhabit that cheerless abode.

It is a matter of history, running far back into the ages, that the manufacture of strong drink by means of fermentation is a practice to which man seems to turn naturally, no matter what his condition in life. Warden Johnston knows this and makes due allowance for such an extenuating circumstance; but when the men who wear stripes neglect the little work allowed them under the state prison laws and indulge in the manufacture of strong drink during business hours, he outlines some punitive measure to discourage the practice.

Former Discovery Is Recalled.

Not a year ago some of Riverside's inmates are said to have got into trouble by making an intoxicating drink out of potato peelings. Perhaps no one but a long-term prisoner, with an ingrowing thirst, would resort to this mean method of satisfying his appetite, but nevertheless, this was done and reprisals followed. For several a period of close confinement in the dungeon and a bread-and-water diet followed the discovery, so it is said.

Now once more the Demon Drink is reported to have been bestirring the ingenuity of the prisoners with appetites, and again there has been a "discovery." Within the past two weeks several of the short-haired fellows have had earnest consultations with Maj. Johnston. There is always someone ready to "squeal" if he thinks that, personally, he will profit by it, and the warden has taken advantage of this familiar weakness to become well posted upon all things pertaining to liquor-making in Riverside.

Of course in many instances little probing was necessary. A sudden desire to sing lustily in the middle of the night has revealed the hilarious condition of a man in a cell who has not entered a licensed house for years, but has managed to cultivate a sincere jag, somehow. Swollen, blood-shot eyes and a pair of wavering legs have told the secret of some other convict in the early morning when the breakfast bell called the men from the long ranges to the great dining room. What has not been learned by the warden in these ways has been confided to him by "squealers."

Story of a Former Convict.

It was from a former prisoner that a Gazette reporter got his first "tip" and an interesting and amusing account of the prune-fermenting industry that has been going on. Prunes are one of the staples of diet at all big institutions, penal or charitable, over all the country. Maj. Johnston feeds many bushels of this fattening fruit to the prison inmates. Conspiracies thrive wherever men assemble, even when the laws' guardians, with keen eyes and sharp ears, are alert to prevent such collusion, and according to the reporter's informant, who spent 12 years in becoming intimate with men and methods at Riverside, there are cliques and bands in the Western penitentiary just as there are in the halls of congress or in the Daughters of the American Revolution.

If a man has developed a thirst for spirits during years of freedom, it is natural to suppose his craving for the stuff does not cease when he enters prison. Then comes the conspiracy. The scheme is agreed upon and for several days those in the deal will secret and save the prunes served them at the table. A man working in the kitchen is necessary and there is always one to be found. He supplies the vessel and the hot water, and prepares the ferment that results in a concoction that is said to guarantee a "foolisher" that is really a wonder.

"When a man gets lit up on that stuff he's a sight," says the ex-convict. "Things have been lively in that boarding house for some time and lots of the fellows have got a look into the interior of the dungeon. Every once in a while someone in the 'stir' gets a real thirst and then they begin to make booze on the sly. This prune juice is no new drink, but it's a daisy."

What Warden Johnston Says.

Warden Johnston, while denying that any prisoner has been in the dungeon as punishment for "moonshining" prunes, says:

"I discovered that some of the kitchen men had hidden a quantity of prunes and I started an investigation. Perhaps the scheme was to let the stuff ferment, but if it was the game was blocked. There was no one put into the dungeon. I got the men together and talked to them. Those who were in the kitchen were told that they must understand that the rations there were to be served to all the men in the dining room. I didn't punish anyone—only talked to them."

VOLK DOES NOT CARE.

McKeesport Citizens to Hold an Indignation Meeting on the Garbage Contract Ordinance.

"I don't care what the people think," said Select Councilman Berman Volk, Jr., of McKeesport yesterday, when told the people thought it strange that he had so suddenly changed his vote on Monday night, when he was needed to make a majority for the passage of the ordinance giving a 20-year monopoly to the Auld Brothers Company for the hauling and burning of garbage.

Councilman Volk refused to explain his action yesterday. He first voted against the passage of the ordinance, but later announced he desired to change his vote from nay to aye, making a majority for the measure. His action was greeted with hisses in the lobby, which was packed with property owners.

Business men have started out with a call for a mass meeting, at which it is the intention to demand that members of select council reconsider their action or resign. The indignation meeting will probably take place this week. The largest hall in the city will be secured and speakers engaged to start the discussion, after which others will be invited to express their views. The bill is to go before common council next week, where it will probably have much opposition.

In the meantime the city is shipping a carload of garbage a day to the furnace at Reduction, paying $1 14 a ton for burning it.

FOREIGNERS MUST CUT OUT WEDDING CELEBRATIONS

At the police hearings in McKeesport yesterday Mayor Falkenstein stated that wedding celebrations among the foreigners will hereafter not be allowed because of the disturbances which usually occur. About 200 people attended a Hungarian wedding in that city Monday night and early yesterday morning a fight was started, during which Officers Peter Forbes and Bernard Volk were badly beaten with their maces and beer bottles. The police arrested 23 of the belligerents. Michael Tucko, who was badly hurt during the fight, was fined $25, and each of the other prisoners $10.

GRAND JURY ON HUNT OF LEAKS

Investigating the Scandal Which Has Arisen in the Agricultural Department.

TO FORCE WITNESSES TO TALK

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 25.

There was an unusual event in court procedure today in the efforts of the government to obtain indictments of persons connected with the sale of cotton reports and the jugglery of figures, when Judge Thew Wright, of the district supreme court called the grand jury before him and addressed the members as to their rights and duties.

This grand jury had already been charged by the court when it was first empaneled months ago, and it is very unusual to have a separate set of instructions given them when they are called together to consider any special case.

In this instance the action was taken at the request of District Attorney Beach, who evidently believes that witnesses will be intimidated and that others will be reluctant to tell the truth.

May Force Them to Talk.

Judge Wright told the grand jury that it was empowered to subpoena all persons to appear before it, and to ask all questions that it deemed essential and proper to the success of the matter of the work in hand. Should any witness decline to answer such a question the grand jury has the right to insist on an answer, and if their refusal was persisted in, the grand jury was advised to promptly communicate to the court so that steps could be taken to compel an answer.

The grand jury then retired and continued the examination of witnesses in the cotton leak case.

One of the witnesses today was L. C. Van Riper, the cotton broker, whom Secretary Wilson in his report of July 8 said had been obtaining reports of cotton figures in advance from Edwin S. Holmes, Jr. Van Riper was before the grand jury a long time and will be called again tomorrow.

The sudden and unexpected departure of John Hyde, the former chief of the bureau of statistics, for Europe, Saturday attracted great attention today. It is embarrassing to the government.

Mr. Wilson Is on Duty.

The departure of Mr. Hyde, following the absence of Mr. Holmes and the charge of Judge Wright to the grand jury, made things look unpleasant for the agricultural department. The situation brought Secretary Wilson from his sick bed in the afternoon. Ordering his carriage the secretary drove with his son, Jasper, who is also his private secretary, to the department of justice, where he had a long interview with Solicitor General Hoyt.

The department of agriculture, through Acting Secretary Hays, today announced that it would probably tomorrow make public a new report or a new estimate, on cotton acreage to itake the place of the juggled figures of June 3. The report will be given out at noon and can be taken for what the public think it may be worth.

Richard Cheatham, secretary of the Southern Cotton Growers' association, and Assistant Secretary Hays of the department of agriculture, were witnesses examined by the grand jury today.

TINY TWINS ARE ADDED TO LUNA'S INCUBATORS

Mother Languishes in Hospital Awaiting Word from Missing Husband, While Wee Humans Thrive in Glass.

In one of the wards of the Reineman Maternity hospital is an emaciated woman almost at the point of death. In a glass enclosed incubator at Luna park are two diminutive infants, twins of the mother referred to, and traveling somewhere in this broad land is a man, the husband of the woman and the father of the twins. The mother languishes and prays for the return of him who is responsible for her condition; the infants commune with the angels and suck their tiny thumbs unmindful of the dereliction of him who is responsible for their existence.

The story is a particularly sad and pathetic one. Mrs. Mary McGuire, the mother, is 46 years of age, and comes from Dawson. She was married several years ago to a traveling man. For a time all went well. Then trouble loomed up and the cloud grew until the husband went off on a supposed business trip and failed to return. Left in a delicate condition, the woman worried and sickened from anxiety until five days ago, two months earlier than should have been, she gave birth to the two little mites of humanity, both girls, their combined weight not equaling four pounds.

Dr. J. W. Asdale of Ellsworth avenue was called in to attend her and as soon as the little ones were brought into life he hurriedly placed them in baskets and rushed them to Luna Park, where they were entrusted to the tender care of Dr. Fischel in charge of the Incubator hospital. The little ones were in a very weakened condition when they arrived at the hospital, but the care and attention given them in the incubator has restored vitality to their tiny frames and the chances of their successful incubation are said to be excellent.

Meanwhile the mother is not improving, her convalescence being retarded by the anxiety she is experiencing on account of the absence of her husband. Dr. Asdale has manifested considerable interest in the case, and has sought the assistance of the police in an endeavor to locate the missing man, hoping that a word from him will do more to restore her to her normal condition than any medicine he may administer.

POLICE CRITICISE MOKE.

Magistrate Released a Bad Negro, Giving Him the Opportunity to Commit Another Crime.

Magistrate Moke seems to have disregarded the orders issued to the policemen by Superintendent Wallace to arrest men insulting women in the streets. Yesterday four prisoners were arraigned before him on these charges and they were dismissed after the magistrate lectured them.

Some time ago William Johnson, a negro, recently brought back from Chicago on a charge of highway robbery, was taken before Moke twice. Detectives Aymer and Leff arrested him in Water street for attempting to rob Italians. Moke lectured the negro and discharged him. On July 10 Johnson assaulted and robbed J. A. Hice of Philadelphia in the hill district. The negro took his three-carat diamond ring and $150 in cash. Hice received painful injuries at the hands of the negro.

The detectives contend that had Moke made the proper disposition of Johnson on the first charge he would not have been at liberty to assault and rob Hice.

MASONIC FUND SOCIETY READY TO SELL PROPERTY

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Masonic Fund society for Allegheny county in Freemasons hall in Fifth avenue last night, the stockholders consented to sell the property. There were about 35 men present and Secretary A. D. Armstrong said that nothing further was done than to place the society in a position to sell the property if an offer should be made for it. The property measures 60 feet in Fifth avenue and is one of the most valuable pieces of frontage in the downtown district. Secretary Armstrong said no price was set on the property and no offers were considered by the stockholders.

Another "Word Hunt" Next Sunday.

$50.00 IN PRIZES

For Four Words Selected From

NEXT SUNDAY'S GAZETTE

Rules and Conditions of the "Word Hunt."

The hunt consists of selecting four words from the advertisements appearing in next Sunday's issue of The Pittsburgh Gazette.

In selecting such words you are privileged to use each letter of the alphabet four times, but no more.

Each letter of the alphabet has a value in points, according to its location in the alphabet. For example, A is one point; B, two points, C, three points, etc. This would make the letter Z count twenty-six points.

The persons selecting the four words aggregating the greatest number of points (on the basis described above) will receive the prizes. We give below examples to demonstrate the difference in value of words. Take the word "Furniture."

6—21—13—14—9—20—21—13—5
F—U—R—N—I—T—U—R—E

It contains nine letters and represents 113 points, whereas, you take the word "Handkerchief."

8—1—14—4—11—5—18—8—5—9—6—6
H—A—N—D—K—E—R—C—H—I—E—F

It contains twelve letters, which only represent 91 points.

Answers must give the words selected, explain from what ad they were taken, and where the ad is located in the paper. This is necessary to properly check the answers.

OSTERLING NOT THE ARCHITECT

Commissioners Price and Evans Employ New Man to Make Plans for Ventilating Plant.

DREW $39,000 IN FEES

F. J. Osterling is no longer the favored county architect. When plans were wanted for the new ventilation plant for the court house the commissioners employed E. L. Currier.

For years Mr. Osterling has been the only architect employed by the county. In the last three years he has drawn about $39,000 in fees. He still has charge of the jail extension, but is not likely to receive any new work from the present board of commissioners.

It was understood Mr. Osterling was drawing the plans for the new ventilating system to be installed in the criminal court rooms. As no other architect has been considered by the commissioners in the past it was taken for granted Mr. Osterling was doing the work. When Commissioners Charles B. Price and James Evans took up the ventilation proposition they decided to find a new architect. Mr. Price announced yesterday E. L. Currier is at work on the plans and in a few days the commissioners will invite bids for the work.

When asked about the failure to select Mr. Osterling, Mr. Price simply remarked: "We decided to employ Mr. Currier. Mr. Osterling was architect for the new morgue. He tells me he is preparing plans to make the morgue ventilating system ventilate. I am not familiar with what he intends to do. He has had no connection with the work of installing a ventilating system for the criminal court rooms."

The controller's report for the last three years shows it has been worth while to be county architect. The fees drawn by Mr. Osterling in that time follow:

| | |
|---|---|
| 1902. Architect's services altering sundry offices | $ 6,112 50 |
| 1902. Architect on account of new morgue contract | 10,000 00 |
| 1903. Architect services, improvement of the prothonotary's office | 2,406 30 |
| 1903. Architect services in full on new morgue contract | 5,291 56 |
| 1904. Plans and specifications for jail extension | 15,000 00 |
| Total | $38,892 36 |

While Mr. Osterling may not serve as the county architect in the future, he has a good thing left in the jail extension contract. As supervising architect his fees will amount to at least $10,000, in addition to the $15,000 he has secured for drawing the plans and specifications.

Mr. Osterling is now endeavoring to secure the work of drawing the plans and supervising the erection of the new high school to be built on the Magee site.

WYMAN'S CRUSADE IS NOT AT ALL POPULAR

Allegheny Executive Is Worried Over Indignation That Follows Enforcement of Blue Laws.

By compelling the closing of all stores where candy, tobacco and soft drinks are sold on Sunday, Mayor Wyman of Allegheny has established a precedent in North Side police annals, and incidentally has stirred up a lot of trouble. Apparently there is no way to undo the mischief and the mayor is somewhat worried.

For seven weeks past informations have been made against Greeks and Italians who conduct small stores. Special Policeman Charles C. Justice has secured the information necessary to charge these people with a violation of the blue laws. Each Monday there have been hearings in the office of Alderman Brinker of the Twelfth ward. The work, it is said, was offered to several other aldermen before it got to Brinker, but the others refused to have anything to do with it, probably for political reasons.

It is this latter consideration that has Mayor Wyman worried. There has been a clamor against the enforcement of the ancient laws, and from all sides the mayor has heard how unpopular the movement is. He doesn't like this, for there is a nice political fight coming up within a few months. But, according to his own statement, he is actuated by a sense of strict moral obligation. Some ministers, he says, called upon him and said it would be the right thing to do. So the stores were ordered closed, and whichever way he turns now the mayor will cause ill-feeling. He wishes he hadn't got into the thing at all.

John Glenn is nursing similar feelings. As acting superintendent of police Glenn has had to affix his signature to all the informations after Policeman Justice has done the foot work. Glenn does not favor the movement, but is in such position that he cannot help himself. He denied yesterday that the informant in such cases gets half the fine, and Alderman Brinker declares he turns every cent he collects over to the county.

The first informations made were against Greeks and Italians in Federal and Ohio streets. Then the scope of Policeman Justice's work widened and he started to get about in other parts of the city. Each conviction has cost the offender $31. No attention is paid to drug stores, and in these establishments everything is sold. It is those who sell ice, soft drinks, ice cream and tobacco who are being prosecuted.

It is understood Justice has a large number of informations prepared against those upon whom he called last Sunday, but Alderman Brinker is camping and refuses to lay aside his red and line to return to the city at present.

NEW X-RAY APPARATUS.

St. Francis Hospital Has Largest Machine in the City—Donated to Institution.

A new X-ray apparatus, which is said to be the largest in Pittsburgh, has been donated to the St. Francis hospital by the medical staff, the board of directors and the ladies' aid society of that institution. The machine is of the most improved pattern and will be shortly installed in an addition that is being built to the hospital for X-ray work.

The machine contains 32 revolving glass plates and a high-frequency resonator which eliminates pain in treatment. It is designed for fluoroscopic and radiographic work, also the treatment of menial, nervous and surgical cases. It is run by an electric motor. It has been in use at the hospital since Saturday.

TAKES NEW TACK IN EQUITY SUIT

Mrs. Mary Darlington Attacks Constitutionality of West Penn Control by the P. R. R.

MISS GUNNING'S QUEER WILL

Mary C. Darlington, through her attorneys, S. A. Ammon, J. C. McCombs and Frank C. Osborn, filed a bill in equity yesterday, in which the constitutionality of the act of assembly under which the Pennsylvania railroad obtained control of the Western Pennsylvania railroad, more familiarly known as the West Penn, is called in question. The bill was filed to frustrate the attempt of the railroad company to take her property near Sharpsburg.

Mrs. Darlington has filed exceptions to the bond of $150,000 given by the railroad company to indemnify her for the land the company wants, and the bill now asks the court to frame an issue to try the question as to whether or not the Pennsylvania railroad and the Western Pennsylvania are competing lines; to enjoin the defendant from taking further proceedings to law to take the land; and to enjoin the defendant from entering upon or taking her property.

The plaintiff goes on to recite that sentiment connected with the old homestead renders it valuable beyond a consideration expressed in money. She recites the filing of the bond by the railroad company and of her excepting to it. Then the bill in equity practically recites in substance the allegations made by the plaintiff in her exceptions to the railroad's bond.

Mrs. Anna B. Hurl filed a bill in equity against the West Side Belt Railroad Company to restrain it from occupying a township road on which her property is located in Jefferson township.

Anna M. Gunning's Peculiar Will.

The will of the late Miss Anna M. Gunning was probated. The paper was written, by Miss Gunning personally, and has some peculiarities. In the opening clause she directs that her property at 602 Liberty and 5435 Potter street be sold, provided good prices can be obtained. The Liberty avenue property, she says, should bring $175,000, and that in Potter street, $5,000. If they can not be sold for these prices she desires that they be retained until a good price can be obtained, taxes, interest and insurance to be paid out of the rentals. She directs that her debts be paid and a tombstone like her mother's placed at her grave before any money is given to anyone. Then the lot is to be given to the Allegheny cemetery "so that no one else is ever buried in it." The cemetery is to be paid to keep it in order.

When the property is sold the testatrix directs that $10,000 be given to Mazie McCombs, with the added clause, "at her death she can leave it to anyone except her husband, C. A. McCombs;" $10,000 to Nellie Danner; $10,000 to Vida Coffin, $10,000 to Anna Blankinsop; $5,000 to Grace Greer; $5,000 to Belle Blackford; $1,000 to Sue Hedge; $1,000 to Lucy Blankinsop, $3,000 to "Aunt" Belle Blackford, which at her death is to go to her son, John H. Blackford, if he is dead, to his children; $2,000 to Mary Coffin and $1,000 to Dora Relihan.

After these bequests the will reads: "The income of the balance is to be given to Karl F. Miller, provided that he is not living with the woman he married in 1899. Should she die or he be divorced from her—that is finally divorced—he is to be given absolutely one-half of the principal and the interest of the other half as long as he lives. If he marries again he can, by will, leave all to his second wife and children. If he dies unmarried a second time, and without children, the one-half or all his share is to be equally divided between the children of Wesley Greer, Culbert Greer and John Blackford. In no case is the present wife of Karl F. Miller to benefit by anything I leave him either in personal or real estate. Should any one contest this it is my earnest desire that they shall forfeit their share."

Was Great for Detail.

The personal property is disposed of with great attention to detail. Miller is mentioned again in this part of the will, a clause reading: "I will my book case, parlor clock, picture of 'Diana' and any of my books that he may wish given to Mr. Miller, with all or his pictures and frames on my desk."

A codicil substituted the Fidelity Title and Trust Company for the original executors. Miss Gunning died on July 18, aged 55. The executor estimates the value of the real estate at $190,000, or $75,000 less than the figure Miss Gunning placed on it. No value is placed on the personal property.

Rose McElhour of Allegheny leaves a $3,250 estate to St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church, Allegheny, with the provision that a niece shall occupy a house of the testatrix for life.

During the hearing of the argument list in quarter sessions court the validity of the recently enacted raiding ordinance in Allegheny was attacked. Minnie Hunter of 74 West Robinson street, with three of the women inmates of her house, took an appeal from the decision of Magistrate Abernathey in fining her $50 and costs and the inmates $10 and costs each on the charge of disorderly conduct. Mrs. Hunter was one of the chief witnesses in the Allegheny "graft" cases, and in taking the appeal she made the claim that her resort was raided for spite because she testified against Capt. James Wilson at the latter's trial.

Marron Stirs Up Things Again.

During the hearing of the case Attorney John Marron asked Policeman Michael Redman, who had assisted in the raid on the Hunter house, if "Gladys Wilson, who lately came into favor with the police, had not been running things wide open and having a great deal of disorder in her house."

Judge Evans refused to let the witness answer, despite the fact that Assistant City Attorney Stoner of Allegheny, who represented the magistrate, informed the court it would be better for all concerned if testimony of this sort was brought out. Attorney Stoner said: "Before I came over here to appear in this case I was informed by the assistant superintendent of police that since the district attorney has been protecting Minnie Hunter she is absolutely uncontrollable and has created no end of trouble for the police."

Judge Kennedy wanted to know under what power the Hunter house was raided, and when informed that it was under the new raiding ordinance, the judge demanded a copy of the ordinance. When the ordinance was forthcoming the judges took the papers and held the case under advisement.

Arguments were heard on the motion for a new trial for Frank Joy and John P. Graham, convicted of conspiracy upon an information made by John H. Fisher, who alleged they entered into a conspiracy to injure him by representing he was selling bogus stock. The defense argued there was no conspiracy shown and that Joy, being a detective, prejudice against detectives worked against him with the jury. No decision was rendered by the court.

Justices of the Peace Reversed.

The decision of several justices of the peace in various parts of the county were reversed or amended by Judges Kennedy and Evans. The fine of Boyd Buhman of McKees Rocks, who was assessed $25 and costs by Burgess William Zirkham for alleged violation of a borough ordinance in selling adulterated milk, was reduced to $10 and costs. Judge Evans, in making the order, remarked that the fine was exorbitant. U. S. Saunders, who appealed from the decision of Burgess George F. Atking of Elizabeth, who fined him $50 and costs or six months in the workhouse for disorderly conduct, had his fine reduced to $10 and costs.

Alderman Charles Von Moss of Allegheny was reversed in a case in which he had fined Saul Lowenstien, a meat dealer, for cruelty to animals. Lowenstien's driver is alleged to have treated some sheep in a cruel manner, and the Anti-Cruelty society prosecuted Lowenstien for the offense. Restitution of the fine imposed was ordered.

Judge Evans sentenced Solomon Max, an Allegheny junk dealer 60 days to the workhouse on a charge of receiving stolen goods. Max was convicted two weeks ago of purchasing iron pipe which had been stolen from the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago railroad in Manchester.

Judge Buffington handed down an opinion refusing a motion for a new trial in the case of the American Insurance Union against Simon Whitestone. The suit involved two contested items of a note for $1,787 80 and an overdraft of $818 19, and an uncontested overdraft for $185 11. Judge Buffington said that under the proofs that item of claim was one to be passed on by the jury, and if any one had ground to complain it was the plaintiff, for the court ruled out the second item. The plaintiff not having complained, the court says the verdict only enforces the settlement which the jury must have found the parties made and he declines to disturb it.

Equity Suit Involves C. L. Magee Estate.

Judge Buffington handed down an opinion in the case of Alice Hedley against Arabia R. Coleman, refusing a motion for judgment in default of a sufficient affidavit of defense. This was an action on land which was subject to a number of mortgages amounting to $11,710, which the defendant claimed was less than the value of the ground as represented to him.

An answer was filed to the bill in equity for the partition of Bridgeville property in which the late C. L. Magee was interested. The bill was filed by John A. Bell against the Fidelity Title and Trust Company, as trustee under the will, and the trustees of the Elizabeth Steel Magee hospital. The answer says the defendants have not sufficient information to affirm or deny many averments of the bill and ask for proof of the averments in the trial of the case.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed against Albert L. Freed of Arcadia, Pa., by Bernay Bros. of Johnstown, Pa., H. Renn Company, Goerin, Shapira & Co., McKenna Bros. and the Levins Hat Company of Pittsburgh. The petitioners assert that Freed recently permitted E. E. Lewis to get a judgment for $200, and the Shawney Land Company to get a judgment for $150, both in the Indiana county court, and that the sheriff has seized and levied on Freed's goods and has advertised them to be sold.

A summons in trespass was filed by Sarah Lower against George H. Waggoner, John Roach and the county of Allegheny. No statement was filed.

Executions issued: A. H. Rowand, Jr., trustee, vs. Robert Leya, $223; German Savings and Deposit bank vs. John Carley, notice, $1,735; Joseph C. Loughrey, use, vs. Thomas R. Loughrey, notice, $5,358; William House-hold vs. Tube City Real Estate and Improvement Company, $1,748; James W. Houston, et al., vs. Stephen Pustek, $113.

TO SEND COAL TO SEA.

Pittsburghers Interested in Big Project to Ship Coal from Norfolk, Virginia.

NORFOLK, VA., July 25.—(Special.)—W. Harry Brown of Pittsburgh, who was here today, says that the syndicate which he represents will build coal piers on the eastern branch of the Elizabeth river and will use the Palmer fleet of schooners in taking coal to the northern and eastern ports in opposition to the Pocahontas Coal Company.

Mr. Brown and associates recently bought a valuable terminal site here. His company owns 18,000 acres of coal lands near Pocahontas, this state. These lands are being developed, and the coal will be run to tidewater and loaded on the schooners. The vessels of the Palmer fleet are among the largest in the coastwise trade. Mr. Brown was here today to oppose the application of the Norfolk Viaduct Corporation, which desires to build a cantilever bridge near his company's property.

Gray Hair Banished

One Bottle of Wyeth's Cream of Sage and Sulphur performed a miracle.

My hair was as white as snow when I commenced using Cream of Sage and Sulphur. One bottle restored my hair to its natural dark brown color. As I am now 70 years old, I consider the result most remarkable. It is an agreeable and refreshing hair dressing, keeping the hair soft and glossy, without being in the least greasy or sticky.

BIGELOW STILL IN SECLUSION

Puts Off Day to Day Official Announcement of Death of Hump Scheme.

CUT RUINED OLD CATHEDRAL

Although to all appearances the hump movement has been abandoned, Director Bigelow continues to put off from day to day the official announcement. He remained in seclusion all day yesterday at his home to escape inquiries on the subject and denied himself to all visitors and calls over the telephone.

Calls at the house were met with the response that the father of the hump project was resting and did not want to be disturbed. On Sunday the director said he would decide the matter "tomorrow," and Monday he again said that the question would be determined "tomorrow." It is evident that his "tomorrow" may not come, at least not until Director Bigelow is compelled to call off the election set for August 22.

This will probably be done by repealing the ordinance authorizing the election and the withdrawal of the mayor's proclamation. The mayor's proclamation has been published but once and was ordered published weekly until the date of the election.

The profiles of the proposed 18-foot hump cut, which Director Bigelow has prepared, show that even should the proposed 18-foot cut be made there would still be a good-sized "hump," as evidenced by the grades which remain in Fifth avenue, Grant and Diamond streets, Oliver avenue, Sixth avenue and other streets of the hump district.

Hump Grades Often Changed.

This brings to mind the fact that there have been previous cuts of the hump and that ordinances for the regrading of the streets of the hump have been passed by the city councils half a dozen times. According to the history of old St. Paul's church, which appears in a souvenir edition of the "Cathedral Record," published in 1901, and in the compilation of which John B. Larkin, the city controller, assisted, it was this constant anxiety concerning proposed new grades of Fifth avenue and Grant street that was largely instrumental in the congregation of St. Paul's selling the church property and removing to the site at Fifth avenue and Craig street.

The city councils' records show that ordinances were passed by councils five different times changing the grade of Grant street. An ordinance enacted on March 26, 1836, provided that the grade of Grant street at the intersection with Fifth avenue should be lowered 10 feet. On January 12, 1846, a new ordinance was passed making the street descend from Fifth avenue to half way between Third and Fourth avenues.

Cuts Made Twice.

On November 10, 1847, an ordinance was passed lowering the grade of Fifth avenue seven feet at Grant street and making the grade of Grant street descend in both directions from Fifth avenue to Diamond and Virgin alleys. Again, on October 2, 1848, an ordinance was passed lowering the grade of Grant street three feet at Diamond street and making a gradual ascent to Fifth avenue. On August 27, 1849, an ordinance was passed raising the grade of Grant street slightly at Diamond street.

The changes in the grade of Fifth avenue on the hump have been equally numerous. The ordinance of 1836 provided for a regrading of Fifth avenue to meet the cut of 10 feet at Grant street and the ordinance of 1847 provided for lowering the grade of Fifth avenue seven feet. On November 27, 1848, the grade of Fifth avenue was changed again from Grant street to Wylie avenue. To meet these new grades in Grant street and Fifth avenue corresponding changes were made in the grades of Smithfield street, Diamond street, Cherry and Virgin alleys and Wylie and Sixth avenues.

Fear Drove Away Cathedral.

These numerous changes, followed by the proposed cut of 18 feet in the hump and leaving still a part of the hump remaining, have caused the property owners on the hump who fear damages to inquire will another cut be made and when? It was this anxiety that drove the congregation of St. Paul's to remove their place of worship out where they would not be troubled with hump cuts. The history of the church in the "Cathedral Record," shows that the last hump cut ruined the cathedral and preparations were begun to tear the building down when it was burned.

This bit of history is exceedingly interesting in view of the present talk of a hump cut, and the fear of damages which many property owners in the hump district have. There have been at least two hump cuts. A third is prepared and a fourth might be made. The portions of the Cathedral's history relating to the hump cut are as follows:

A meeting of the Catholics of Pittsburgh was called, August 27, 1837, to consider the erection of a new church. The lots on the northwest corner of Grant street, the site of the present cathedral, were selected. The lots had an elevation of about 25 feet above the present level of Grant street. Work was soon afterward commenced on the foundation of the proposed church, the hill was graded down in view of the future grading of the streets and the corner stone was laid without ceremony by Father Maguire, June 24, 1839.

Endangered Church Foundations.

In the year 1844 the first episcopal residence was erected for the bishop and the priests of the cathedral. In the same year the city council passed an ordinance to grade down the streets on Grant's hill, as that part of the city on which the cathedral stands was then called. It was feared the foundations of the church would be endangered and a subscription was started to build retaining walls to support it.

In the year 1847 there was a second grading of Grant street and Fifth avenue, by which the foundations of St. Paul's were irreparably injured and the approach rendered exceedingly difficult. When the grading was completed the church stood perched on a mound some 20 feet or more above the level of the street, and a flight of stairs was necessary to enable the congregation to enter it.

The venerable building was doomed. This history of the destruction of old St. Paul's is interesting to us now when the grading of the same streets is spoken of as "cutting down of the hump."

Cathedral Was Ruined.

The condition of the building became daily more precarious and finally all were convinced that there was no alternative. The building must be abandoned, torn down, the lot graded and a new cathedral erected.

When all was in readiness to tear down the ruined structure, when nearly all the insurance policies had been permitted to expire, this noble monument of the zeal, energy and taste of Father Maguire took fire at the roof from sparks from the chimney of the episcopal residence, May 6, 1851, and was entirely destroyed.

After 20 years' of financial difficulty the sale of the cathedral was deemed by the bishop, the church committee and men of every profession and branch of trade, to be a prudent and safe move, although a grave and responsible undertaking. Ten years had been given to the consideration of the matter by the Right Rev. Bishop Phelan before the decisive step was taken.

The cutting down of the hill above the cathedral and the lowering of the grade of Grant street and Fifth avenue 15 or 18 feet, which at times seemed probable, was a constant source of doubt and anxiety. All architects and engineers who had been consulted declared that the lowering of the grade of the streets 15 or 18 feet would render the building unsafe and perhaps repeat the story of the destruction of "Old St. Paul's" in the ruins of its noble successor.

MR. BIGELOW FAILS TO MAKE REPLY

Director Has Not Answered the Hump Cut Questions Proposed by Wesley S. Guffey.

EFFORT TO DO SO IS FEEBLE

Director Bigelow has not answered the seven pointed questions asked by Wesley S. Guffey in order to obtain full information concerning the reduction of the hump. The week given for the head of the department of public works to make the promised reply expired yesterday. As he had added nothing to the incomplete data given to the chamber of commerce, Mr. Guffey consented to make a statement.

On Monday Director Bigelow sent to the chamber of commerce a letter containing the same limited amount of information he submitted to the body at its meeting a week ago. The data consists of a plan of the hump district, the names of those who this year, or last, waived claims for damages, his estimate of the cost of doing the work from house line to house line, and the grades on the various streets. Nothing is said about the alleys. There is no information concerning the provisions of the waivers or whether they call for a 15 or 18-foot cut. Nothing is said about the damages for which the city is liable. The only data relating to the public service corporations given the chamber is the letter from the Philadelphia Company agreeing to bear one-half of the expense.

Proposition for Bigelow.

Mr. Guffey points out in his interview the failure of the director to answer the questions. He suggests if Mr. Bigelow has faith in his judgment concerning the claim that the hump can be removed for $2,000,000, the director should be willing to give a bond of $4,000,000 to complete the work within the specified amount. Mr. Guffey believes numerous people who own property on the hump ought to act as sureties for the director.

When asked yesterday if he was satisfied with the answer made by Director Bigelow, Mr. Guffey said:

At the time Mr. Bigelow addressed the chamber of commerce I submitted some questions to him which he promised to answer within a week. These questions relate to matters connected with the hump removal project, which the taxpayers of Pittsburgh are entitled to know, and which they must know before they can vote intelligently on the proposition to issue bonds to pay the cost of the proposed change of grade. It is hard for me to believe that Mr. Bigelow does not appreciate the importance of enlightening the people upon the subjects covered by my questions, yet he has not answered my questions, or furnished information to the people on the really vital questions involved in the undertaking.

Bigelow Should Know.

The information I requested is, or should be, in the possession of the director of the department of public works. It is his business to have it. It would be practically impossible for an individual voter to secure it for himself. There is no honest reason known to me why the director should withhold it.

Take the matter of the alleged waivers of damages—what voter in the city knows who are the owners of the property in the district? We do not know who owns this property, where the owners live, nor how many of them there are. How can we determine what proportion of them have agreed to waive their claims for damages, until we know who they are, how many of them there are, and what property is owned by each?

What voter can tell you how many waivers have been signed and delivered to Mr. Bigelow? Who knows the dates of these waivers—their terms and conditions—by whom they were signed, how much property they cover, or where the property is situated? It is current rumor the waivers which have been delivered to the director differ widely in their terms, that some of them limit the time within which the work must be completed; that others specify certain cuts at certain points, and that still others have different conditions. Who knows what these terms, limitations, conditions and stipulations are?

Damages Will Be Enormous.

The matter of these waivers of damages is a most important one. The undertaking is gigantic; the costs of the litigation, the claims and contentions of the property owners growing out of such a change of grade would be enormous; and the total cost to the city of such a work, if the city must pay damages to property owners, would naturally be expected to involve many millions of dollars. Nearly all the property abutting on the streets where the change of grade is to be made, will be totally destroyed, for present purposes, by reason of the change of grade. It is safe to say that the Frick building, the Carnegie building, the court house and jail, and, possibly, the Bakewell building, will be the only buildings in the district, at or near the top of the hump, which will not be totally destroyed, or rendered wholly worthless.

Consider, for the purpose of illustration only, the condition of some of the buildings in the vicinity of Fifth and Wiley avenue, after a cut of 15 or 18 feet has been made in front of them, and the sidewalk has been lowered to the grade of the street. What would these buildings be worth, for their present purposes? They would be up on stilts, wholly inaccessible, and worthless for business purposes. Practically all of the other property in the district will be affected in the same way.

People Want to Know.

The taxpayers wish to know whether the city is liable for the damages to this property. They are asked to vote their money into the hands of the director of the department of public works; and if they are refused this information, can they be expected to go to the polls and blindly vote their money away, and at the same time incur such possible unknown obligations? Eminent authorities are reported as saying the ultimate cost of this undertaking will be many times $2,000,000, and the sum suggested by Mr. Bigelow is hardly enough to make a substantial beginning of the work. Does Mr. Bigelow expect the people to vote this money out of their pockets, without knowing the facts? Will experienced business men do this? Should he not frankly give the public true and correct copies of the waivers in his possession? This is public business, and the people should not be misled; they have the right to know the facts concerning these waivers.

During the performance of the work, the transaction of business around and about the affected district will be attended with great inconvenience, and considerable danger. Many sections of the business part of the city will be more or less deprived of the use of the sewers, the water supply, telephone communication, electric light and natural and artificial gas; street car travel in the business part of the city will be almost wholly discontinued, and many other inconveniences, of a most damaging character, suffered by the people.

Some Things Unanswered.

What detailed information has the director given to the voters on this subject? What plan has he for overcoming the inconvenience and danger of disconnecting the sewage pipes and cutting the water mains? Can the lower part of the city be kept supplied with water? Must we suffer in this way for one year, two years or three years or more years? The voters want to know, and they will not be satisfied with anything but the most reliable information. The man who answers to their satisfaction must state the reasons for his opinion, so they may form their own judgment as to the accuracy of his conclusions.

What have the public service companies agreed to do? Who is to pay the cost of the relaying and readjustment of their lines, pipes and property, which will result from the proposed change of grade? What detailed information has the director furnished upon this subject? The amount of the cost to the public service companies on account of changes which will be necessary because of the cutting down of the streets will be enormous. Who will be required to pay this?

Benefited Should Pay.

If the increase in the value of the property in the hump district will be so great as is indicated by the advocates of the director's plans, why do not the people who will directly receive the benefit of this increase in value contribute to the expenses of the cut? If the director's figures are correct to the extent of one-half, these people can well afford to make very liberal contributions toward these expenses.

Prudent business men in the management of their own affairs never make investments nor incur obligations or liabilities without first learning all they can about the facts which relate to the transactions before them. The taxpayers feel in a transaction of this kind they should exercise at least the ordinary, common, every-day business prudence. Their only source of information in this matter is the director of the department of public works, and they look to him for light and truth. He is their servant, placed in his office, not for his own benefit, but for theirs. It is his duty to state the facts publicly, accurately and fully, so all may vote upon the bond question intelligently.

Bigelow Should Give Bond.

As to the cost of the proposed change of grade, I have one suggestion to make. Mr. Bigelow insists the total cost will not exceed $2,000,000. If he has faith in his own judgment, will he enter into a bond to the city, in the sum of $4,000,000, with sufficient sureties, conditioned he will, if the voters approve the bond issue, complete the work for $2,000,000, or, otherwise, pay out of his own funds, whatever additional sum may be required? Numerous persons who own property on the hump might be suggested as proper sureties on such a bond. The giving of a bond of this kind would be the best possible evidence of the director's good faith.

LARKIN POSES AS EXPERT ENGINEER

Bigelow Criticises the Controller's Scheme for Water Pipe Extension.

Controller Larkin, who claims to be a financier and also somewhat of an engineer, paid a visit to the filtration plant at Aspinwall yesterday, and in a stay of an hour or two came away with the positive assurance that the plant can be completed according to the plans and specifications and $800,000 or $900,000 saved to build extensions to the water mains in the East End and Hazelwood.

The controller came to this conclusion after a view of the plant and a talk with Morris Knowles, superintendent of the filtration bureau.

In addition to solving the problem how nearly $1,000,000 can be saved and the filtration plant built, the controller came back with a brand new idea. He was quoted as saying yesterday that after the 18 filter beds, now being constructed, are completed, the water from these 18 beds can be turned right into the Highland reservoirs to be built, although the plans provide for 48 filter beds altogether, for a pumping station to pump the water from the river into the beds and a big main across the river to carry the water to Brilliant station.

Director Bigelow evidently does not have a very high opinion of Controller Larkin's engineering ability or judgment as to using filtration funds for water pipe extensions. The director was asked this question:

"Director, what do you think of Controller Larkin's scheme to take $800,000 or $900,000 from the filtration fund for water pipe extension and still have ample money left in the fund to complete the filtration plant?"

Director Bigelow answered the question by relating an automobile incident.

"It is just like this," he said. "My brother-in-law bought an automobile with one of those new-fangled arrangements to run it. He asked me to take a ride so that he could show it off. I ran into the house and got my cap, and climbed into the machine. He got in, turned a wheel, pulled something, but the machine would not go. He tried it again, and still the thing would not move. He got out, monkeyed with something here and something there, but the automobile did not budge an inch.

"That was like Larkin," said the director. "When the machine would not go, my brother-in-law sent for a man down in Penn avenue. He came up, touched a little spring and the automobile ran all right. You see, it requires a practical man for these things," said Director Bigelow, with a laugh at his illustration.

Court House Now Has Its Own Central.

The court house telephone exchange is now in operation. All the instruments in the building were connected up yesterday. Those of the morgue and jail will be connected in a day or two. A number of new telephones will probably be installed.

Duquesne Councilman Takes an Appeal.

Councilman C. W. Zeigler, of Duquesne, has taken an appeal to the superior court from the decision of common pleas court No. 2, which directed a writ of ouster be issued against him. It was alleged that Zeigler was a member of a lumber company that furnished lumber to the borough while he was in councils.

Bitten by Rattlesnake.

ASHTABULA, O., July 25.—(Special.)—Mrs. William Fassett of Plymouth, this county was bitten by a rattlesnake and may die. The reptile crept in the bed which had just been drawn into the barn.

JAMES A. CLARK COMING HOME

The Democratic Commissioner Wants to Be on the Ground to Keep Watch on Citizens.

County Commissioner James A. Clark is expected home within a few days. It was his intention to remain in the west until the second week in August, but information received from him yesterday would indicate he is headed toward Pittsburgh.

Harry T. Rowley, chief clerk in the commissioners' office, yesterday received a couple of telegrams from Clark. Mr. Rowley said he judged from the point the messages were dated, the commissioner was on his way home. The last one came from Billingsly, Wyoming. Mr. Rowley knows of nothing to longer detain Clark in the west.

Since Clark has been in the west, there have been indications that the Citizens were inclined to break their promise with the Democratic commissioner and name a runningmate for him on the fusion ticket. Clark insists on the right to select his colleague and his homecoming is for the purpose of seeing this program is not changed. Clark owns the Democratic party and when he is on the ground the Citizens will have to deal the way he dictates. Mr. Rowley is preferred by Clark for a runningmate.

Mayor Hays is still fishing in the Virginia mountains. At his office nothing definite is known about his return. He and the other Citizens are anxious to delay as long as possible, the opening of the fall campaign. For this reason and for the purpose of getting a line on the makeup of the Republican ticket, the fusionists will not select candidates for prothonotary, commissioner and director of the poor until the latest possible time.

There are a number of Republicans talking of entering the primaries as candidates for county offices. County Chairman T. J. Ford says there will be a number of announcements within a few days. Yesterday Capt. John A. Reed formally notified Chairman Ford of his intention to be a candidate for clerk of courts.

THE PIRATES GAVE WILHELM A VERY WARM RECEPTION YESTERDAY

AN OLD COMRADE WARMLY GREETED

Ex-Pirate Wilhelm Thought He Could Fool Clarke's Crew, but Is Driven to the Bench.

FINE WORK BY PHILLIPPE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BOSTON, July 25.—The Pittsburghs took an awful revenge upon Tenney's team, atoning fully for the drubbing inflicted by the Beaneaters in the opening game of the series here; 7 to 0 was the count today.

Wilhelm was sent in against the only team he is supposed to be able to beat, but his former teammates shamed the tradition by driving the ex-Pirate to the bench in the third inning, when Fraser succeeded him. The masterly pitching of Phillippe was responsible for the calcimine coat spread thick upon the Roxbury stars. His control was nearly perfect and his method the epitome of all that is artistic. Bob Emslie clearly erred when he gave Dolan a life in the sixth, and but for this misdemeanor Phillippe would have pitched a five-hit game. It must be said, however, that Fred Clarke's two grand running catches deprived the locals of all they really earned, slight as would this total have been.

Slothful base-running kept the locals out of rubber in the opener, although after "Batty" had singled, Tenney, fooled Brain by his bluff attempt to bunt, cutting the ball instead when Davy came up on the grass. Dolan's bunt advanced "Batty" but forced Tenney, and on an attempted double steal Wagner's throw nipped his Boston imitator.

Except for singles by Leach and Peitz, Pittsburgh's two first innings were uneventful. The joy bells began ringing in the third, when Wolverton fumbled Beaumont's roller. Clarke's double put both men within a scoring distance and Beau trumped home when the kindly Abbatichio spared Leach's gentle effort.

Wagner then impressed his personality upon the game by a smite down the left foul line, on which he easily reached second, while Clarke ran home. At this point Fred Tenney's quavering cry brought Fraser to the rescue, but Howard switched his first pitch into the sun field for two sacks and Leach and Wagner scored. A passed ball moved Howard along and Brain's long fly to Delehanty scored him.

Fraser's performance thereafter was creditable until the seventh. Then after Clarke forced Beaumont, who had drawn a pass and another free offering had been extended to Leach, Fraser further contributed a wild pitch. Both runners moved along, Wagner hit and Clarke clattered home. Doubles in the ninth by Peitz and Beaumont swelled the total to seven.

Leever and Hillebrand will probably pitch the remaining games in this city. On Thursday night the team will leave for Atlantic City, where Barney Dreyfuss and the excursion from Pittsburgh will greet the pennant aspirants. After the annual game with the Atlantic City team the whole squad will leave for home in a special car. The score:

WASHINGTON HITS CUSHMAN AND TAKES THE GAME

The Washington (Pa.) team hammered the delivery of Cushman yesterday at Braddock and defeated the Edgar Thomson Works team 6 to 4. Washington hit at will, but sensational fielding by Braddock kept the score down. The game was exciting throughout and several times the Edgar Thomson team had chances to tie, but the batter would go out in order with the men on bases. The feature was a catch by McConnell in middle field. He went against the deep center field fence and pulled down a liner that was good for a home run. The score:

NEWS OF THE NEARBY TOWNS AND COUNTRY

REMARKABLE SIMILARITY IN RIVALS FOR JUDGESHIP

Franklin County's Candidates Differ Only in One Thing, but That Is Material.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

FRANKLIN, July 25.—The judgeship fight in this county between the Hon. George S. Criswell, the present incumbent and again the Republican candidate, and the Hon. Robert F. Glenn, the Democratic and Prohibition no-license nominee, presents a most remarkable parallelism in the candidates.

Both men are members of the same church and are office bearers in it. Each has in turn been superintendent of the Sunday school. Both live in the same ward, on the same street, on the same side of the street and within a block of each other. Further, both were born in the same year, both first saw the light of day in the rural districts, and their respective fathers had the given name of Robert. Both served in the Pennsylvania legislature at the same time. Both are Masons, and both have been sending their sons to Washington and Jefferson college, from which institution each had a son graduate this year.

Neither of them drinks, swears or chews—in public. "In short," says a friend of both men, "about the only difference between them appears to be on the matter of the judgeship—one seeming to desire a change, while the other is satisfied to allow things to remain as they are."

MANSFIELD FOR HOLT.

Former State Legislator Announces He Will Bolt With the Bolters.

BEAVER, PA., July 25.—(Special.)—Another surprise came today when the Hon. I. F. Mansfield, ex-member of the state legislature and president of the Beaver Falls Tribune, announced that he would support R. S. Holt, the fusion candidate for judge, despite the fact that the Tribune changed its politics a few days ago and came out for the straight Republican ticket.

Mr. Mansfield says he is only a minority stockholder in the Tribune; does not run it and does not allow it to run him. The fusionists are as jubilant over Mr. Mansfield's statement as the Republicans were over the Tribune changing sides.

COMPLETING THE WORK OF GEOLOGICAL SURVEY

Engineers Finishing Up Washington and Part of Allegheny County—Disputed Name Is Finally Settled.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., July 25.—Corps of engineers of the United States geological survey, department of the interior, are now at work in the western part of Washington county, part of Allegheny county and West Virginia in completing the topographical work which was started a few years ago. Everywhere through the eastern and southern parts of the county where the work is completed the familiar bench mark figures noting distance above sea level are to be found.

Director Charles D. Walcott today forwarded a letter of inquiry to Clerk of Courts Charles E. Baker concerning the correct spelling and derivation of the township lying between Smith in Washington and the Allegheny county boundary known as "Robeson" and "Robinson." An investigation today by local authorities developed the fact that the name is "Robinson," but that the name or spelling "Robeson" was used in the first official records of 1775 to 1790 occasionally. Howell's map of this section, published in 1791, spells the name "Robinson." The name of this township, which then included much of Allegheny county, was named after Robinson Run, which stream took its title from one William Robinson, an early Scotch pioneer, which family is still found in the two counties of Washington and Allegheny. The official spelling is "Robinson."

MANY TEACHERS FAIL TO PASS EXAMINATIONS

Educational Famine Is Threatened in Washington County Owing to Shortage of Instructors.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., July 25.—There is an educational famine in Washington county school circles. There is a dearth of teachers, and the cry for additional instructors is coming in from every district almost in the county. From Amwell, West Bethlehem, Cecil, Hopewell, Smith, Robinson, Hanover, Somerset, East and West Pike Run and various other sections, directors are inquiring for teachers. There is much concern in school circles lest the time for opening the schools comes around with many of the schools unfilled.

The examinations by Superintendent Frank R. Hall have just closed and the results have spread consternation in the camp of school officials. Out of 435 applicants for teachers' certificates only 251 made the required grade and passed. These were given provisional certificates. Ninety-six techers hold permanent certificates, 176 are Normal graduates, and 61 hold professional certificates, a total reserve force in all of 629 teachers with 675 schools to be filled, leaving a deficit of 46 teachers. A large per cent of the 629 teachers in the reserve force will not teach this coming school year, and it is estimated that the shortage of teachers will far exceed 100. The wages paid are from $40 to $50 per month, and hundreds of vacancies exist in the county at present, with but little prospect of being filled by September 1.

The total receipts for the 66 school districts the last school year was $532,316 15, of which amount the state paid $90,513 60 in appropriations. An amount of $341,807 56 was paid to teachers, and the total expenditures was $514,504 78. For the last year the resources were $23,425 86 and liabilities $379,499 13. The county of Washington has a valuation of taxable property amounting to $85,000,000. Superintendent Hall says that more lucrative employment than teaching is attracting the more advanced of the teaching profession. The examinations, which are growing more difficult, cut off many old teachers.

TEN YEARS

THE STORY OF

My Wonderful Success

Reads Like a Fairy Tale, Yet Full of Convincing Truths

AN OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME FOR THE INVESTOR

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF IT

I ask every reader of this paper to write me. I want to send you my free book entitled "Ten Years — The Story of My Wonderful Success." It tells about one of the greatest and most promising investment opportunities ever offered. It tells how my business grew from less than $25.00 capital to its present proportions.

I believe I have the best proposition from an investor's standpoint that could be placed before you. For ten years I have been teaching men and women to live according to the laws of Nature. My book is the history of my life. It shows what energy and ambition can accomplish in the world of affairs. It is intensely interesting to any man or woman who has a few dollars to invest in a legitimate enterprise.

I started business in the City of Brooklyn in 1896. My capital amounted to less than $25.00. My first year's business netted me over $1,000.000. Last year I paid dividends to my partners of 15 per cent. Five years ago my business had grown so large that I was compelled to remove to larger quarters. I am now at 63-65 Clark St., Brooklyn, N. Y., in connection with Hotel St. George. Experts pronounce my institution to be the best appointed of its kind in the country. I estimate the equipment of The Mac Levy Institute of Physical Culture to be worth at least $40.000.00.

I want to have a building of my own that will enable me to accommodate my increasing business. To erect this building I need capital, but more important than this—to increase my business to the proportions which I desire, I need the co-operation of men and women throughout the country and the world.

CO-OPERATION IS THE SECRET OF SUCCESS

I recognize it. I believe that with thousands of co-operators throughout the country I can build my business to tremendous proportions to the benefit of the shareholders and myself.

The Mac Levy Company is incorporated under the laws of New York for $150,000.00. They are proprietors of The Mac Levy Institute of Physical Culture and The Mac Levy Gymnasium Equipment Company.

The last named branch of the business of the Mac Levy Company is comparatively new. I have been at work for several years to establish such a department in connection with teaching Physical Culture. The most difficult part of forming the Equipment Company has been accomplished. The business is now in condition to be pushed on a large scale. Hundreds of thousands of dollars are spent yearly on new gymnasiums and their equipment. The profits are large. A Company of this kind has an immense field in which to work. Competition is slight. It is evident that The Mac Levy Gymnasium Equipment Company can build up an enormous business.

The Mac Levy Company operates during the Summer months at Steeplechase Park, Coney Island, and at Arverne Hotel, Arverne-by-the-Sea, L. I., as well as at our Brooklyn Institute. It also does an extensive mail business. I teach people how they should live and exercise. My students are scattered all over the United States, and in English-speaking countries.

A PROBLEM

which arises in the minds of every man and woman is how to secure a comfortable income in the earlier years of their life that they may reap the full benefits which such an income affords.

I have long thought that there are hundreds of people in moderate circumstances who would like to invest a few dollars in an institution of this kind. It is to such people that I intend this announcement shall appeal. I am offering a block of the Treasury Stock of this Company to the public at its par value. My reasons for doing this are that I want to erect a building and to extend the business of The Mac Levy Institute of Physical Culture and The Mac Levy Gymnasium Equipment Company.

I WANT YOU AS MY PARTNER

I need your help and suggestions. I want you to work with me and help to secure a tremendous amount of new business.

I believe that if you could talk with me personally and go over the records of the business which I have done, see in black and white the figures which show the steady growth my business has experienced during the past ten years, examine my plans for future extension, and then look over the magnificent equipment of my Institute, you would want no further evidence that money put into this business would bring you the greatest possible returns consistent with safety and good management.

I ask you to write for my free book. I believe it will interest you. You have a few dollars that you want to invest. Why let it stand idle earning only 3 or 4 per cent that Savings Banks pay their depositors? Put it to work. Join it with mine. This Company ought to pay at least TWENTY PER CENT DIVIDENDS within one year. Write for my book today. NOW.

MAC LEVY, President of the Mac Levy Co., Inc., Dept. 6 65, 63-65 Clark St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

TROLLEY COMPANY WILL CLOSELY OBSERVE THE LAW

Monaca Citizens Petitioned Council for Speed Limit Ordinance to Escape Dust—Now They Have It, but Are Unhappy.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MONACA, PA., July 25.—Because of the disagreement between the town council and the Beaver Valley Traction Company, the schedule of the one car which forms the whole traction line here, has been brought down to 40 minutes for a mile round trip. Workingmen going to Colonia have to get up an hour earlier in the morning, and sometimes are half an hour late when they go to Colonia.

Since the schedule was limited over a week ago by council to six miles an hour, the traction company, in order to disgust the people with council's action, has maintained the 40-minute schedule. The grass is growing long between the tracks, as the car barely creeps along, and passengers leave the car when a saloon is reached, have a drink, and, without running a step, board the car again.

The company claims it cannot connect with other schedules unless it keeps to this one. The people are paying for their petitioning council to limit the speed of the car, which before went at express-train speed with clouds of dust behind it. This aroused the health board and petitions poured into council asking for an ordinance to limit the trolley car's speed. The town will likely have to endure this for a long time, as it will take weeks for council to pass another ordinance allowing a higher speed.

CONTEND FOR A CHANGE IN PT. PLEASANT BRIDGE

Pittsburghers Press the Claims of Marine Interests in Remodeling of That Structure.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, July 25.—To present the demands of the marine interests in the remodeling of the Kanawha and Michigan division bridge of the Hocking Valley railroad over the Ohio river at Point Pleasant, J. F. Tilley, secretary of the Pittsburgh coal exchange, and W. H. Crump were in Washington this afternoon. They held an extended conference with Gen. Mackenzie, chief engineer of the war department.

While Gen. Mackenzie was not inclined to make any definite statement of what the position of the war department will be, he promised to give the contentions of the marine and coal interests careful consideration, when the order for the change in the bridge is issued.

Col. Ruffner, United States engineer at Cincinnati, recently held a hearing at Cincinnati upon the questions involved and until his report has been submitted no action will be taken by the war department.

CHARGE SHORT-CHANGING.

Three Men Must Answer in Court Accusations of Store Clerks.

Samuel Gardner, Thomas Phillips and William Chandler, three alleged short-change men, who were arrested last Friday, were held for court yesterday by Magistrate Moke on charges of larceny and attempted larceny.

Mrs. Nettie Hale, a clerk in a Smithfield street store, charges Chandler with entering the store last February and short-changing her to the amount of $10. Gardner and Phillips were charged with larceny by Albert Appelbach, an employe of a publishing company, who alleges the men swindled him several months ago. Benjamin L. Moses, a clerk in a Wylie avenue drug store, said the men attempted to short-change him last week.

McKeesport Losing Principals.

Another McKeesport school principal, Prof. O. F. Fuller, is about to resign, to accept a better position in Crafton. He has been in charge of the South Park school. Prof. Fuller stated yesterday that he would present his resignation at the meeting of the board next Monday night. He is the fourth McKeesport principal to go this year.

TORPEDO BOATS GOING TO THE PHILIPPINES

Flotilla Being Made Ready Will Beat All Records of Such Small Boats.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, July 25.—No commander has yet been selected for the torpedo boat flotilla, which some time within the next year will be sent to the Philippines, a distance of more than 12,000 miles, never before traversed by a flotilla of ships so small.

The "little fellows," as navy officers term the little boats, being made ready at Norfolk, are now enjoying more consideration than for several years. For a time naval opinion inclined to the idea that the torpedo destroyer did all the work of the smaller torpedo craft and had the advantage of being more seaworthy and habitable. But the Japanese have upset this idea.

No itinerary has been mapped out for the little flotilla. Before it departs there will doubtless be a series of towing experiments on the Atlantic coast.

YOUTHFUL ROBBER GANG.

Two of the Alleged Members Land in Jail on Serious Charges.

Edward Miles, aged 17, and Fred Schroder, aged 15, were committed to jail last night on charges of entering a building with intent to commit a felony, on the information of William Sevin before Justice McConnell of Leetsdale. The boys were held for the juvenile court.

The boys are supposed to be members of a gang who have been camping in the woods near Leetsdale and robbing and plundering in that neighborhood. They are supposed to have robbed over 25 residences, also about 20 freight cars on the Fort Wayne railroad.

MITCHELL MUST SERVE IN JAIL

Sentenced for Six Months and to Pay a Fine of Thousand Dollars.

HOLDS SEAT PENDING APPEAL

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

PORTLAND, ORE., July 25.—United States Senator Mitchell convicted of usin his office of United States senator to further the law practice of the firm of Mitchell & Tanner of this city, was today sentenced to pay a fine of $1,000, and to six months' penal servitude. Pending a review of the case by the supreme court of the United States, execution of the sentence will be deferred. Meantime, Mitchell will be placed under bond to the amount of $2,000.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—(Special.)—Pending the appeal of Senator Mitchell to the supreme court of the United States, which will act as a stay of sentence, it is not believed he will resign his seat in the United States senate. Nor will he exercise his privilege as a senator. He will probably absent himself from the sittings of the senate when congress convenes and if the supreme court of the United States should indorse the verdict that should be rendered against him he will probably then resign. If he did not he would be expelled from the senate. Senator Mitchell's present term began March 4, 1901. It will expire on March 3, 1907.

The other members of the senate who have been indicted during recent years were Senator Dietrich of Nebraska, and Senator Burton of Kansas. Senator Dietrich was indicted in connection with the postoffice scandals, for having used his influence in connection with the appointment of postmasters and the rental of postoffices. He was acquitted. Senator Burton was also indicted in connection with the postoffice scandals, being accused of using his influence in connection with a "get-rich-quick" and turf concern. He was convicted, but the supreme court ordered a new trial, which will take place this fall. Senator Burton has not occupied his seat in the senate since his indictment.

DOINGS AT ATLANTIC CITY.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. Y., July 25.—(Special.)—Passengers on the Buffalo special to this city last night were treated to a burst of speed that carried the train over the 68 miles between Broad Street station and Atlantic City in 63 minutes. Two full stops made at junctions and three slow downs were included, and railroad men claim that the time made over the straightaway road after the train had reached the Jersey shore was the fastest ever made on an Atlantic City line, the train several times reaching a speed of a hundred miles an hour. The run was made with Engineer Thomas Fitzgerald at the throttle. After the train had been delayed 20 minutes in Philadelphia, the flyer came in to the Atlantic City depot "on the dot."

Anxious mothers and nurses united in thanksgiving today when the mayor officially signed the new law barring ponies and horses from the strand during the summer months. City officials take the stand that the beach should be the playground of the resort and that nothing should be allowed to interfere with the safety of the youngsters or their elders.

City life guards are accusing a St. Louis man of acting as his own press agent because of the publication of a story of his having saved the life of Miss Grace Walton of Altoona, who was caught in the surf and nearly drowned last Sunday. The life savers claim that they alone made the rescue and that one of their number acted as the "human barrel" on which the young lady was rolled to relieve her lungs of their load of salt water. The guards are somewhat mollified, however, following the distribution of hundred dollar bills among five of their number by the lady's relatives today.

George Lehner, a well-known young Pittsburgher, had a party of Philadelphia friends down for the day for lunch at the Loraine, his guests including Ernest G. Smith, Miss R. E. Oskin and Miss Stevens. Schward of Pittsburgh, who is spending the month at the seaside, is entertaining Mrs. J. H. Myers from her home city. A. W. Lewis, Mrs. Lewis and Miss Lewis are registered at the seaside for a two weeks' stay. William Le Goultin, a prominent Pittsburgher, was on the boardwalk today with Albert G. Colvin of New York. C. J. Holman and Mrs. Holman, Pittsburgh visitors at the Strand, have Howard Nesbit as their guest. Miss Musser and Miss Hilda Musser, two pretty Pittsburgh girls, are belles at the New England, where they are visiting with their mother. Capt. W. H. Clifford of the U. S. S. Lancaster, was on the boardwalk today with Capt. H. L. Bearss and Mrs. Bearss.

SOCIETY

A VERY pretty though quiet wedding was conducted last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Dunlap Walker, in Westminster street, Shadyside. The bride was their only daughter, Miss Emma Hayes Walker, and the bridegroom, Dr. John McMasters Stewart of Homestead. At 8 o'clock the marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. L. Vance, pastor of the United Presbyterian church of Homestead, the guests including only the immediate members of the families of the bride and of the bridegroom, a little company of 25 people. The house was prettily decorated with palms and flowers. The bride wore her traveling gown of blue veiling and immediately after the wedding supper Dr. and Mrs. Stewart left to catch the 10 o'clock train east to spend their honeymoon at the seashore. After September 1 they will be at home in apartments in Ann street and Eighth avenue, Homestead. The bride was for several years a member of the corps of librarians in the Pittsburgh Carnegie library, resigning her position in April. Dr. Stewart, who is a Westminster college man and a graduate of the Western University of Pennsylvania, is one of the successful younger physicians in Homestead. He is a son of R. E. Stewart of Braddock and a brother of Mrs. A. C. Dinkey of Ellsworth avenue, Shadyside, and of Harry M. Stewart of Duquesne and James S. Stewart of this city. The bride received many very beautiful wedding presents, among them being a large chest of flat silver, which was the gift of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dinkey. The collection of wedding gifts included silver, cut glass and rock crystal, bric-a-brac and pieces of furniture. Among the guests at the wedding last evening was Mrs. Leonora McMasters, a grandmother of Dr. Stewart.

Cards have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. David Henry Hopkins announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Gertrude Launtz Hopkins and A. McCormick was the best man. The ceremony was witnessed by only a few relatives. After an eastern trip Mr. and Mrs. McFerren will be at home in Allegheny. Cards are enclosed with the announcements giving at-home days after August 25 at 39 Sterling street. Mr. McFerren is a representative of an eastern business firm. The bride is a daughter of Daniel H. ### U. P. Women Give Thanks.

The regular monthly meeting of the United Presbyterian Women's association for July will be held on Friday of this week. At the May meeting it was decided to make the meeting this month one of prayer and thanksgiving for the success which has attended the work of the women during the past year in raising money for the erection of the new Columbia hospital and the wing to the Home for the Aged. In addition to the special program of prayer and praise, the regular reports will be presented by the managers of the difference institutions. It is expected that work will be completed at the Home for the Aged so that a formal housewarming may be conducted in September. The new hospital building, however, is not as far along, and its formal opening will be deferred until November. In order that the hospital may be opened free of debt, $25,000 more must be raised to cover the entire cost of the building and equipment.

First Vacation School Mothers' Meeting.

The first meeting of the mothers of the children in the summer playground and vacation school in the O'Hara school building this season will be held this afternoon. ## DOINGS AT CHAUTAUQUA.

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., July 25.—(Special.)—Music week opened under especially favorable conditions. The real opening took place Sunday evening with Gounod's oratorio "The Redemption," given by a chorus of 250 voices, the orchestra and soloists of the month: Mr. N. J. Corey of Detroit, Mich., is giving a series of lecture recitals this week, and his subject this morning was "Antonin Dvorak, a poet of the people."

SAMUEL HARPER DEAD.

He Is Father of Chicago University's President—Leaves Daughter Residing in Pittsburgh.

CHICAGO, July 25.—(Special.)—Samuel Harper, father of President William R. Harper of the University of Chicago, died at the residence of his son, in this city. Mr. Harper had been ill ever since he came with his wife to visit his son, July 12, and had been constantly sinking.

Mr. Harper was born April 29, 1822, at Canonsburg, Pa. He was married early in life to Miss Ellen Elizabeth Rainey, who survives him. He had four children, all of whom are living. They are William R. and Francis R., of the University of Chicago; Dr. James Harper of Rush Medical college, and Mrs. Gordon Duncan of Pittsburgh. During the past year Mr. Harper had been living with his daughter.

NDERSON MONUMENT NO SLEEPING PLACE

Tramps and Bums Must Not Slumber on Feet of Andrew Carnegie's Gift.

The Col. James Anderson monument, erected by Andrew Carnegie at Federal and Ohio streets, Allegheny, is no longer to be a sleeping place. Acting Police Superintendent Glenn last night gave orders that the place was no longer to furnish lodgings to tramps, and the order caused consternation.

At 9:30 last night there were half a dozen men curled up in the big granite seat just below the statue of "Labor Learning." The hard, smooth stone had served a similar purpose on many nights before for all of them, and as they were penniless they seemed to have nothing to fear. It is safe to sleep in Allegheny if you have no money in your clothes.

With orders from Glenn, Policemen Kerr and McCullough roused the sleeping ones and marched them over to Central station to finish their slumbers there and have a talk with the magistrate in the morning.

The news spread to others who usually sleep there and a lot of seedy-looking men hung forlornly about the corner, apparently lost since they could no longer occupy the bench. One man, who was too drunk to give his name, wandered down into the basement of the Carnegie library, when chased away from the bench, and taking off his clothes lay down on the floor and went to sleep. He was dragged over to the hall and put to sleep in a cell.

Glenn says it's not good form to sleep out, especially when you are an idle person and pick as a companion for the night a monument symbolic of intelligent and ambitious labor. The park benches will likely become more popular now.

CHARITY DONS THE APRON AND SHEARS SAMSONS FREE

Not Necessary to Wear Long Hair Longer, for Cutting Is Cut to Nothing.

If you are long on hair and short on money, join the anti-Samsonites of the South Side and they will welcome you with a pair of shears and cut your troubles short.

A philanthropic Carson street barber jumped into the giveaway stakes in one bound yesterday morning by displaying a notice in his window that was at once a life-saver for the needy and a boon for the mattress market. The notice was as follows:

> Acts of charity. The director of public safety has placed men at different points along the river as life savers. We intend to follow his example of saving lives by cutting hair free for those who cannot secure the money.

Several travelers on the railroad left their box cars and applied for relief upon beholding the invitation, while the neighborhood is short on long-haired boys and long on short-haired youths. The proprietor explained that the charity was not due to a warfare of price-cutting, but rather for the benefit of peaceful haircutting. It was also said that no more hair was cut off for 25 cents than for nothing, while opposition barbers who retain the union scale of "first-class hair cut—25 cents," claim that a free cut does not apply to first-class hair.

Say Meat Is Not Poisoned.

Meat dealers in Pittsburgh and vicinity claim all the meat they sell is pure, so far as they know, and would welcome an investigation, which is threatened by Dr. B. H. Warren, of the state dairy and pure food commission. The butchers state if meat contains preservatives it has been doctored before they receive it. Manager Risher of Nelson, Morris & Co.'s local plant and Supt. Kane of the Cudahy Packing Company; state the meat they sell is pure and nothing will be done to hinder the state officers' investigation.

McKeesport Day at Luna.

Four business men of McKeesport—R. E. Stone, James N. Borland, J. Denny O'Neil and L. Haber—have arranged for a special McKeesport day at Luna park, and to every man, woman and child who desires, a ticket will be given. The day will be August 10, and the park will be reserved for the McKeesporters.

Sues Benite Dairyman.

C. H. Cummings, a dairyman of Benite, Pa., was yesterday sued by Milk and Meat Inspector Adler, on a charge of selling adulterated milk. Cummings will be given a hearing before Alderman McMasters next Tuesday.

Heat Overcomes Shah.

PARIS, July 25.—The Shah of Persia, while shopping here today, suffered a brief fainting spell from the effect of the heat. The attack passed off without serious inconvenience.

GOVERNOR TO DISPOSE OF PRIVATE LIBRARY

The Collection Is Valued at $100,000 and Is the Best in the Country.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, July 25.—There came today into the old book stores of this city a startling report that early in the fall there would be placed on sale at public auction the finest library of historical works, held privately in this country, the owner of which is none other than Samuel Whittaker Pennypacker, historian, literateur, bibliophile, antiquary, and, incidentally, governor of Pennsylvania.

Although the report has not received the official seal of the governor's sanction, its sponsor, a Walnut street auctioneer, is regarded as the very best of authority.

If the governor does not change his mind, the sale will mean that collectors will have an opportunity of bidding on about 15,000 books, the estimated value of which is $100,000. The historical society of Pennsylvania, together with a few other kindred organizations of libraries in the country, have collections that are perhaps more thorough than the governor's, but no individual, however voracious may have been his appetite for historical books, has succeeded in amassing so valuable a library of volumes treating almost exclusively of the early history of the United States.

LOST IN THE MOUNTAINS.

Pittsburgh Man Disappears from Lumber Camp and May Have Been Devoured by Wildcats.

Mrs. Emma L. Somers of Pittsburgh was in Greensburg yesterday to ask the aid of the county commissioners in locating her brother-in-law, Philip Metschan, who disappeared from a lumber camp in the Laurel hill mountains three weeks ago.

Metschan conducted a tinning establishment in Wiley avenue for 20 years. A paralytic stroke unbalanced his mind and he sold his business. Last November the family went to live in the lumber camp in the hope that the mountain air would restore Metschan's health. On July 5 Mrs. Metschan started to pick berries, leaving her husband on the porch of their home. When she returned he had disappeared. It is feared that he wandered away and became lost, lying down finally to die, or that he was attacked by wildcats, which infest the region. Metschan is a Mason and carries a large amount of life insurance.

TRYING OUT PREACHERS FOR A BAPTIST CHURCH.

The congregation of the Fifth Avenue Baptist church, McKeesport, has wired for the Rev. George N. Spencer of Milwaukee to be present next Sunday, when he will receive a trial for the vacancy in that church. The Rev. J. T. Davis, who is now in London attending the international conference of Baptists, will go to Braddock upon his return to this country. The Rev. C. A. Walker of Malvern, Pa., who occupied the pulpit last Sunday, is favorably spoken of. Another is the Rev. H. W. Stringer of West Milton, Pa., who will occupy the pulpit soon. No selection will be made until he has been heard in McKeesport.

SMALL NET CHANGES IN NEW YORK STOCKS

More Losses Than Gains, but None of Them Important—Lustre Made a New High Record and Coal Pref. a Low Record for the Year.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The sales on the New York stock exchange yesterday were only slightly in excess of 330,000 shares. The net changes were small, and while there were more losses than gains, none was important. Traders appeared to be waiting developments in connection with the crops and the quarterly statement of the United States Steel Corporation. The weekly bulletin of the weather bureau disposed of the reports of serious damage from rust to the spring wheat crop, stating that while rust had appeared in some localities, no material damage is shown. The winter wheat harvest is nearly completed and threshings show good yields and fine quality. Perhaps the most important part of the report related to corn, which is stated to be making rapid growth, overcoming the backward season. The grain markets apparently accepted the government estimate of considerations and sold off, closing lower. Farmers also were apparently satisfied with yield and prices, as the primary receipts continued heavy, the total for the day being more than 1,000,000 bushels, compared with 529,000 bushels for the corresponding day last year.

The stock market had opened barely steady, but the decline in wheat was followed by an advance in stocks. Still, there was no increase in the volume of trading. In the afternoon there was a rather sharp reaction, which wiped out the earlier gains, and the tone of the market became heavy. Pennsylvania and Erie closed unchanged for the day. Reading was ⅜ higher and Baltimore & Ohio ¼ lower. Northern Pacific, Rock Island, Atchison and St. Paul closed higher, while Union Pacific, and some of the southern and southwestern stocks closed slightly lower.

There was very little feature to the trading in industrial stocks until late in the afternoon, when there was rather heavy selling of United States Steel on an unfounded report that the earnings would be less favorable than the estimates. United States Steel common, however, closed unchanged for the day and the preferred closed at a loss of only ⅛ per cent. Amalgamated Copper closed ¼ higher on the strength reported in the foreign market for the metal.

The statement of the United States Steel Corporation for the quarter ending June 30 was made public shortly after the close of the market. It was better than the estimates in several respects. The total net earnings were slightly in excess of $39,800,000, and after liberal charges for depreciation, amounting to nearly $6,500,000—a rate per annum that has been exceeded but once in the history of the corporation—there remained a surplus of $10,570,681 after the payment of dividends on the preferred stock. The statement will probably result in a resumption of bull speculation in the stock.

The money market remained easy, call loans closing unchanged at 1¾ to 2 per cent.

Aside from the crop news and the Steel Corporation's report, there was very little news to affect values. Foreign markets continue as dull as our own, and prices move within equally narrow limits. The news from Paris that the Russian plenipotentiaries had acquainted the French government with the program that will be enacted at the peace conference which begins its sessions early next month, carries with it the inference that the great French financiers now know definitely the price which Russia is willing to pay for peace. They have probably been consulted on the carrying out of this program, if accepted by Japan, and this knowledge may account for the apathy in foreign financial circles in connection with securities already in the market.

Lustre Mining and Pittsburgh Coal preferred contributed the bulk of the business handled on the local board. Each made new price records for the year, but they were at opposite extremes. Pittsburgh Coal preferred broke to 45⅞ and closed at 46 asked, a net loss of 1⅜ per cent. This is within a fraction of the lowest price ever quoted for the stock. The decline represents the liquidation of small investment accounts, and occurred without any special pressure of stock for sale. The common stock sold to the extent of only 50 shares, and closed slightly lower at 12½. River Coal preferred sold at 22¼, a loss of ¾. Lustre Mining, on the other hand, was very strong, and after opening at 29, advanced to 33½, a new high record. Sales to take profits caused a reaction to 32 at the close, the final sale representing a gain of $3 a share for the day. The news from the mine continues very encouraging, it being reported that the gold-bearing rock on the fifth level is improving in value and that ore had been taken from this level running as high as 30 per cent in copper. United Copper was active, 1,200 shares selling at prices ranging from 31½ to 30½, the close showing a loss of ⅞ per cent. The remainder of the list was extremely dull. There were no sales in United States Steel common and only 51 shares of the preferred. Crucible Steel common sold to the extent of 200 shares at 10⅜ to 10½, and the preferred to the extent of 150 shares at 62. National Fire Proofing preferred made a strong rally, advancing to 29¼ at the close, a gain of 1¼ points. Less than 300 shares came out on the advance. The common stock declined a fraction to 7⅝. There were no transactions in any of the Westinghouse stocks, which closed nominally unchanged. Independent Brewing common and preferred stocks closed slightly lower, but the bonds advanced to 107¼. A small lot of Exchange National Bank sold at 83, a decline of 5¼ points from the last previous sale.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH

Pittsburgh Coal preferred broke to 45⅞, the low price of the year.

The common stock and River Coal preferred also declined slightly.

Lustre Mining jumped from 29 to 33½, a new high record.

United Copper declined to and closed at 30½.

National Fireproofing preferred rallied to and closed at 29¼.

IN WALL STREET

Stock market was extremely dull and price changes were unimportant. Sales included 336,300 shares stock and $1,814,000 bonds. Government weather bulletin depressed grain and rallied the grangers.

United States Steel stocks sold off on an unfounded report of disappointing earnings.

The quarterly statement of the corporation made a splendid showing.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The slight decline which occurred in United States Steel stocks yesterday, which left the common unchanged for the day and the preferred a small fraction lower than the close of the day before, was based upon an unfounded report that the earnings for the quarter would be but slightly in excess of $26,000,000. Before the official figures were given out the opinion was expressed by traders present to form a judgment that if the earnings fell below $30,000,000 for the quarter they would be bearish, and if they exceeded that sum the showing would be bullish. They exceeded $30,000,000, and today's market will determine whether the public regards them as bullish, or whether, as has been the case with numerous dividend increases, the market has already discounted the good news. The most significant feature of the report, published in full in the telegraphic columns of The Gazette this morning, is that after making liberal provision for depreciation, the usual fixed charges and sinking fund and allowing for the dividend on the preferred stock, there remained a surplus for the quarter of $10,570,681. This is more than double the surplus for the entire year 1903, and is only $2,000,000 less than the total surplus for 1904, although in the latter year 2½ per cent was paid in dividends on the common stock. Following is a three-year comparison of net earnings:

| Quarter ending— | 1905. | 1904. | 1903. |
|---|---|---|---|
| March 31 | $23,625,586 | $12,445,282 | $25,668,767 |
| June 30 | 30,805,116 | 19,490,725 | 26,642,548 |
| Six months | $54,321,072 | $32,933,957 | $41,711,915 |

Unfilled orders on hands compare as follows, in tons:

| | 1905. | 1904. |
|---|---|---|
| June 30 | 4,829,656 | 2,192,277 |
| March 31 | 5,597,560 | 4,136,981 |
| December 31 | 4,696,202 | 5,215,122 |
| September 30 | 3,627,436 | 3,728,742 |

The decline in Pittsburgh Coal preferred yesterday seemed to be due to liquidation of investment stock by holders who have reached the conclusion that it will probably be a year at the very least before there is a resumption of dividends, and that in the meantime there will be an opportunity for turning the money over to something else. The total transactions reached 2,935 shares, with an average of about 54 shares for each sale. Some of the buying was no doubt for the purpose of covering shorts, but it is known that some of it was by traders who feel that even if the price should ultimately go lower, there is likely to be a recovery from time to time that will show a profit on stock bought at this level. The head of one of the largest Fourth avenue houses said yesterday: "We began today to buy the stock on a scale down. We are influenced partly by a belief that the stock is worth the price as an investment for a long pull, but largely by a belief that prevailing sentiment is so bearish as to indicate that much of the selling below 50 has been for short account. Pittsburgh Coal preferred is well scattered, but the distribution was never so wide as was the distribution of Crucible Steel preferred. We know that a considerable amount of the stock was placed with foreign holders, and we are inclined to doubt whether the floating supply is so ample as to permit the shorts to have everything their own way."

National Fire Proofing preferred rallied nearly as easily as it declined the day before. On the advance from 27¾ to 29¼ less than 900 shares came out.

The largest sellers of Pittsburgh Coal preferred were Sproul & Co., who were supposed to be scalping between the local and the New York market. Masten & Co. sold a block of 500 shares United Copper to Speer Bros. The buying of Independent Brewing bonds on the advance was by Robinson Bros.

Gross earnings of Wabash for the third week in July increased $2,900.

Bulls on Lustre Mining are talking more confidently of the stock now that it has reached the record price of 33½, than when it was 20 points lower. Advices from the mine yesterday were that the rainy season is about over and that preparations are being made for starting an additional furnace.

There was a sale of North Butte Mining yesterday at 30, just double the par value. The earnings of the company are said to be averaging more than $200,000 a month.

A report was current that the Amalgamated Copper Company had secured a reversal of the recent decision in favor of the Heinze-United Copper interests in the Montana courts. Particulars were lacking, and the fluctuations in both stocks were not of a character to suggest that the decision was vitally important.

The Pittsburgh Trust Company has declared the usual quarterly dividend of 3 per cent, payable July 31 to stock of record July 25.

National Biscuit Company directors will meet August 10 to act on regular quarterly dividends. The common stock, which sold above 66 in April, last week sold below 56, and Chicago is still bearish on it.

Directors of the Vandalia Railroad Company have declared a dividend of 2 per cent, payable August 5 to stockholders of record July 21.

American Hide and Leather directors declared a dividend of 1 per cent on the preferred stock, the same as declared three months ago.

National Carbon directors have declared the usual quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock, payable August 15.

Twin City Rapid transit directors have declared the usual quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent on the common stock, payable August 15.

It is said that the speculators who cornered the market for Middleborough pig iron warrants, advancing the price about 7s a ton last year and is more recently, have on hand about 500,000 tons of iron. The market is being supported artificially by the holders of iron.

Camille Weidenfeld, who used to be a partner of T. W. Lawson, is now active on the bull side of Heinze's United Copper. He was a large buyer when the stock was selling several points lower, and he is said to be manipulating the stock today. The stock has advanced the equivalent of 10 points since it went bid on the Pittsburgh stock exchange last month. According to street gossip the work of manipulating the market was entrusted to a group composed of Pittsburgh, New York and Boston brokers.

The report that the Ohio-Tonopah Mining Company is preparing to issue 100,000 shares of treasury stock at 25 cents a share is officially denied by President J. G. Butler, Jr.

The bear attack of last Saturday is now attributed in the common current about the stock exchange to the account of a large bucket shop interest, the customers of which had made extensive commitments on the bull side, entailing the deposit of large marginal security in the hands of the bucket shops.

The Pressed Steel Car Company received orders for 3,100 cars last week.

Adams in Philadelphia News Bureau: "A director of the Steel Corporation, who bought Steel common a few days ago at 31 and Steel preferred at 101, says that he will sell his common stock at 50 and his preferred at 120 early next fall. I wish to go on record as predicting that a dividend will be declared on Steel common next year. At any rate this is the present intention of several of the most influential members of the executive committee."

Reports from the west spoke of a hardening tendency in the money market there and the expectation of higher rates within a short time owing to the loaded up condition of the banks and the prospect of active business conditions as the crops are harvested. The New York money market was called easy, but principally from the lightness of the demand, the funds offering showing no notable increase in volume.

First Mortgage Bonds.

Commonwealth Trust Company, No. 327 Fourth avenue, is offering to investors choice first mortgage bonds, yielding 5 to 5½ per cent.

THREE SALES ON THE NORTH SIDE

Charles A. Muehlbronner Parts With Property Worth $38,250—First Ward Deal.

CRAIG STREET FLATS RESOLD

Three Allegheny sales were announced yesterday, all of them of more than usual importance. Charles A. Muehlbronner sold to James L. Bunnell two properties for $38,250. The more valuable consists of 33x25 feet at the corner of Falk and Massachusetts avenue, Eleventh ward, on which is erected a 12-room brick house. This property was valued at about $15,000. A second property, which was included in the purchase at the same figure, was 120x160 feet of vacant frontage in California avenue, adjoining the residence of Mr. Muehlbronner in the Eleventh ward. The third property was an eight-room solid brick house, on 30x110 feet on the south side of Spring Garden avenue. The improved lots are well rented and will be held for investment.

In the First ward Martin C. Stitt sold to Dr. Raleigh R. Huggins 40.5x109 feet in West Ladock street, near Corry street, for $25,000. This lot extends back to Ann street and is improved with two small brick houses.

Albert H. Childs sold to Emma M. Blatt an improved property, 105x151 feet in River avenue, with a frontage in Madison avenue, Fourth ward, for $10,000.

Quick Sale of Apartment House.

Another example of a quick sale at a good profit was that of an apartment house on the east side of Craig street, near Center avenue, which changed owners yesterday for $25,000, or $1,000 more than it sold for last week. Both deals were handled by the firm of Baldridge, Watson & Co., who sold the building last week for J. H. White to James B. Graham for $24,000. Yesterday they resold it to Joshua C. Dunoon, who will hold it for an investment. The building is one of the apartment houses on adjoining lots which were erected about five years ago. It consists of six suites of six rooms and bath each and it stands on 50x33 feet. The total rental is $4,000 a year.

Through the Aronson Realty Company Thomas Manion has sold to Attorney I. Leonard Aronson six brick houses of eight rooms and bath for $23,000. The property has a frontage of 120 feet in Wylie avenue and runs back 110 feet. The same company sold to Louis Adler a 10-room, reception hall brick house in North St. Clair street, Nineteenth ward, for $5,000.

Another Seventh Street Warehouse.

Henry J. Lang, the wholesale shoe merchant, who recently bought from E. F. Nicola and Wilbur Shenk 20x80 feet on the west side of Seventh street, is having plans prepared by Architect McCloskey for a six-story warehouse, for which bids will be asked in a few days. The building will make the third large warehouse erected in Seventh street within a year, and will cost about $65,000. Mr. Lang expects to occupy the building with his business, as soon as it is completed. This project makes no less than six warehouses which are announced for Seventh street in August, encouraging evidence that builders will be busy this fall.

Craig M. Gault, who has just finished six reception hall brick houses in Bellevue, will soon begin the erection of nine more similar residences in the same borough. Eight of these will face on Kendall avenue and one in Washington avenue. The houses will contain eight rooms each, with tile baths and hardwood mantels and will stand on lots 40x150 feet each. These just being completed are in Thomas and Dawson avenue, and will cost about $4,500 each. Such houses are finding better sale this year than the more high-priced residences and brokers report a brisk inquiry for this season.

This is also true of smaller houses which can be sold at from $3,500 to $4,000. Within the last two days John F. Sweeny has sold six of his new houses on Mt. Washington, four of them having been disposed of yesterday, making the best day's sales he has had for two years. His inquiry for houses in this section as well as in the East End he considers almost phenomenal, considering the fact that very few such sales are usually made during July and August.

Fifth Avenue Buyer Is Announced.

E. Klebansky is the buyer of the Newlin property at 1508 Fifth avenue, between Pride and Marion streets, which was sold recently for $27,500. The lot is 23x100 feet and has on it one brick house. It is stated that Mr. Klebansky will have plans prepared at once for a modern store building to cost $15,000.

The sale is reported of 37x90 feet, belonging to W. D. Johnston, on the east side of North St. Clair street, near Wellesley avenue, Nineteenth ward, the price being $11,000. The purchaser is the American Securities Company, which, it is said, will improve the lot with a flat building.

L. A. Clark & Co. have closed the sale of the property at 804 North Euclid avenue, Nineteenth ward, the consideration being $13,000. The property, which consists of a 12-room, center hall brick house on 61-foot lot, was bought by Dr. Bloomberg for a home.

Bids will be taken until August 7 by Frank M. Sankey on the new school house to be erected in Carrick borough from plans by Architects Thomas W. Boyd & Co. The building will contain eight rooms and will cost about $40,000.

Popular Firm Is Reorganized.

The Gordon Smith Company, a well-known real estate firm, has been reorganized and announces as a new partner D. C. Cawley. The company was organized in 1901 by Gordon Smith and the late Robert M. Reynolds, and during the next three years negotiated many large deals for downtown and East End properties. Mr. Reynolds' death two months ago made a reorganization advisable, and Mr. Smith determined to take in a new partner and carry on the business under the old name. Mr. Cawley is an old Pittsburgher with a very large acquaintance. He is secretary and treasurer of D. C. Cawley & Co., Limited, brick manufacturers, and also a director in the American Gas Company and the Kiskiminetas Gas Company. The firm will be located at 413 Fourth avenue and will do a general real estate business.

WHEAT GOING DOWN, FLOUR GROWING WEAK

Shading Is Heavy, but Mills Have Not Reduced—Sweet Potatoes Make Their Entry.

With wheat down more than a cent again yesterday, making a drop of almost 6 cents in two days, all the interest in the local markets centers in the flour question. The mills have not yet reduced prices, although figures were advanced at the mills several days ago. The advance of 10 cents at the mills was not followed by local dealers, however, so they are not under the necessity of reducing prices. The market is weak and but little buying is being done. Should any further decline take place in the wheat market, flour will undoubtedly follow and the decline seems a foregone conclusion. At present considerable shading is allowed to induce buying.

The green goods and fruit lines were well filled yesterday and transacted a heavy business. Sweet potatoes appeared in the market yesterday for the first time. They are selling at $2 and $2 25 the barrel or $1 75 and $1 a bushel basket. They look fine and are of an excellent size.

The general run of produce, fruit and vegetables this week is above the average. Dealers state that Pittsburgh has become one of the most particular cities in the country in this regard. Before the shippers were accustomed to sending all their rejoonds to Pittsburgh, being assured of a market here. Nothing but first-class goods goes now. This city has become used to being the highest priced city in the country, but insists on the best quality of goods. The supplies this year are of unusual excellence, and little or no trouble has been experienced in handling and keeping goods.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania, 15 cars oats, 15 cars hay; 1 car straw, 2 cars feed; Baltimore & Ohio, 2 cars oats, 1 car hay, 1 car straw; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 4 cars oats, 3 cars hay, 1 car husks.

Prices dropped a little further yesterday on account of the hot weather. The market is slow, many of the dealers being away on their summer vacations. Not much life is expected for another month or six weeks.

Gas Companies Successful In the Deep Sand District

Lower southwest operators are not making any sensational discoveries. Nearly all of the wells completed are made of old defined limits, and show no extension to the pools. In the deep sand districts the gas companies are very active and are meeting with very good success. It was hoped that some of these would be fortunate enough to discover some new oil pools before the close of the year, but up to the present have made no oil strikes of any importance. North of Millvington, Marion county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its test on the C. Tomlinson farm into the Big Injun, and the hole has filled up 900 feet with fluid. It will make a small pumper. Near Sedalia, Doddridge county, the Carnegie Gas Company has completed a test on the L. C. Tate farm and has a very good gasser in the stray and Gordon sands. In the same locality, the Hope Natural Gas Company has completed a test on the T. H. Ford farm, and has a fair gasser in the Gordon.

In the Yellow Creek district, Calhoun county, the South Penn has drilled its test on the B. Clayton farm through the Berea grit, and has a show for a 3-barrel pumper. On Dog Run, Ten Mile district, Harrison county, the Ripley Oil and Gas Company has completed and put its test on the Thompson & Hamilton farm, and has a five-barrel pumper. The South Penn has completed No. 1 on the I. A. Carpenter farm and has the same kind of a pumper. On Limestone creek, in Coal district, the Hutton Gas Company has drilled its test on the John R. Flynn farm through the Gordon, and has a fine pumper. In the Smithfield district, Wetzel county, the South Penn has drilled its No. 1 on the Samuel Cunningham farm 65 feet into the Big Injun, and has developed no oil or gas.

In the St. Marys district, Pleasants county, Learn & Co. have completed a second test on the Ford Smith farm, and have a duster. The first test on this farm was dry. In the same district, K. T. Edwards & Co. have completed No. 2 on the M. E. Dudgeon farm and have a duster.

On Horn creek, Troy district, Gilmer county, the Ohio Oil Company has made its location for a test on the O. P. Cox farm. This company has leased a tract of 12,000 or 15,000 acres in that locality and will drill a number of tests. In the same district, in the vicinity of Troy P. O., Bradford (Pa.) parties have taken up a large tract and will drill some tests. The same years there has been considerable prospecting in Gilmer county and with fairly good results. The part of the county in which the territory

The Wool Market.

BOSTON, July 25.—New strength is found in the wool market. This is partly a result of the satisfactory opening of the latter grades of corn's worsteds for spring. In view of large sales and the satisfactory condition of the goods market lower prices in the near future are not looked for, on the contrary the tendency is believed to be toward higher values. Territory wools have been in fair movement. There is a steady demand for pulled grades. Foreign wools are firm. # BREAK FORMER TONNAGE RECORD

Ore Hauling Far Ahead of Last Season—B. & O. Change to Be Made Sunday.

PANHANDLE OFFICIAL IS ILL

Indications are that the ore tonnage this year will be much larger than last year, and fully as heavy, if not heavier, than in the two preceding years. From the outlook of the Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad the record for this month will be more than 25,000 tons ahead of July, 1904, when the tonnage was 627,000. Another instance of the enormous amount of iron ore handled is shown in the fact that the Union railroad delivered to the mills about 200,000 tons last week alone. Most of this ore was delivered to the Union railroad by the Bessemer & Lake Erie direct from Conneaut harbor. The officers of other railroads report a heavier ore tonnage from ports on Lake Erie than last season, while the coal tonnage to the lake ports is also reported heavier. It is said that about 10,000,000 tons of ore have been delivered to the United States Steel Corporation mills and that about 30,000,000 tons will be required. This being the case, there remain 20,000,000 tons to be delivered by lake steamers to Lake Erie ports, and thence by the railroads to the furnaces in this district.

The Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad will receive today the first consignment of an order of 1,000 steel gondola cars. The cars are of the standard Bessemer type, designed to carry 100,000 pounds and are of steel construction throughout. They are being built by the Standard Steel Car Company at its works at Butler. The remainder of the order will be delivered within the next two months.

Easy-Riding Inspection Engine.

Word has been received at offices of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie that plans have been prepared and work begun on a new easy-riding inspection engine that will be used on all roads of the New York Central lines system. The chief feature of the new engine will be that it will have four cylinders instead of two, in order that the steam power may be so distributed as to reduce to a minimum the rocking motion common to two-cylinder locomotives. The cylinders will be 14 inches in diameter and the power will be gained from one cylinder on either side at the same time. The two outside cylinders will be connected with the drivers, as in an ordinary type of engine, but the inner cylinders will be connected directly with the axle. Similar engines are in service on several roads, and some were shown at the world's fair at St. Louis. The device saves wear and tear of the machinery, as well as makes riding easier for the engineman and fireman. It also prolongs the life of the track. This engine will be used solely for inspection purposes.

Ohio River Change on Sunday.

The change in passenger train operations from the Ohio river division of the Baltimore & Ohio, from Wheeling into Pittsburgh, over the Wheeling branch of the Baltimore & Ohio, instead of over the Panhandle, will become effective with a new time card to be made effective next Sunday. While details of the new schedules have not been completely worked out, it is officially announced that two new trains each way will be added to the Wheeling branch of "Pike," and that the schedule will be so adjusted as to make a good through service between Pittsburgh and Kenova. The addition of the four new trains will give 16 trains over the Wheeling branch. Most of these trains make the run of 67.6 miles in two hours. Along with this change from the Panhandle of the Baltimore & Ohio the United States Express Company will be directly benefited in having a direct line and through trains from Pittsburgh to Wheeling, Parkersburg, Kenova and intermediate points.

C. M. Bennett Reported Worse.

Reports to local Pennsylvania lines officers from Urbana, O., the home of C. M. Bennett, maintenance of way inspector of the Southwest system of the lines west, are to the effect that Mr. Bennett can hardly recover from his illness. Mr. Bennett has spent his entire railroad life with the Pennsylvania lines west. He was made maintenance of way inspector two years ago through his eminent ability as a track and road expert. He started as a rodman on the lines west and his first official position was as engineer maintenance of way of the Pittsburgh division, with headquarters in this city. He was then appointed superintendent of the Indianapolis division, and from March, 1890, to April 15, 1893, was superintendent of the Logansport division. He became superintendent of the Cincinnati & Muskingum Valley railroad on the latter date and held that position until about 18 months ago, when he was placed in his present office, with headquarters at Columbus.

Will Presidents Settle Fight.

It has been reported in passenger circles that the rate war now being waged by the New York-Chicago lines is to be considered by the presidents or approved representatives of the presidents in New York the last of this week. It is said also that strong pressure will be brought by some of the traffic officials to have this presidential peace board restore the normal rates, but it is feared this cannot be done unless the Grand Trunk is given a differential over all other lines. The matter has reached a stage demanding action, and a restoration of peace is desired not only by the higher traffic officers, but also by the rate tariff forces, which are kept busy making out new ratings with every cut made by the different lines. Financially the thing has been a losing game, as the standard fares are as low as most of the roads can afford for operating high-class trains.

Hyde May Go to California.

J. C. Hyde, former superintendent of the Pittsburgh division of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railway, who has spent the past six months in the southwest, has returned to this vicinity and was a visitor in Pittsburgh Monday. Mr. Hyde has not recovered his health as he and his many friends had hoped he would, and is thinking now of going to California for his permanent home.

Pennsylvania Gets 300 Engines.

Out of the orders for 525 locomotives placed by the Pennsylvania railroad with the Baldwin works last spring, more than 300 engines have been delivered and placed into service on the road. This places the Pennsylvania in better shape than ever before to handle the immense tonnage that is moved over the system.

Venezuela to Increase Income.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 25.—Norman Hutchinson, charge of the American legation at Caracas, Venezuela, has cabled the department of state that the Venezuelan congress yesterday passed a new law regulating the distribution of income from customs. It is figured that 5,000,000 bolivars will be the maximum income. The American equivalent of the bolivar is 81.2 cents.

STARTED BUSINESS AS A MESSENGER BOY

PRETTY TYPEWRITER CAUSES WIFE'S SUICIDE

Woman Could Not Stand Presence of Husband's Stenographer in the House.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 25.—With a revolver grasped in her hand, the body of Mrs. Grace Marshall, wife of Charles Marshall, a well-to-do Wall street broker, was found today in the luxurious apartments of her husband, 7 West Ninety-second street. From statements made at the home by the husband and the maid it was gathered that Mrs. Marshall, who was an extremely pretty woman of 34 years, had taken her life through pique because her husband had brought his typewriter to the home to take dictation.

Mrs. Marshall was a daughter of George H. Starr, a former immigrant commissioner, and a grand-daughter of Mrs. Henrietta Starr, reputed to be worth more than $3,000,000. She was popular in society and frequently entertained on a lavish scale.

One of the odd features in connection with the case, according to the police, is the fact that, though Mrs. Marshall was right-handed, the revolver with which she ended her life was found clasped in her left hand. A letter was left by the dead woman which is expected to clear up the mystery concerning the motive for her act. Coroner Goldenkranz took possession of this when he reached the Marshall apartments and refused to divulge its contents.

Marshall is a member of the brokerage firm of Wardwell & Adams at 2 Wall street.

WOMAN'S SAD PLIGHT.

Ignored by Relatives, She Is Taken by Beaver County Poor Authorities.

Mrs. Rebecca Cook, aged 50, was sent to Beaver county yesterday, where she will be taken in charge by the poor authorities. Since last Wednesday she had been an inmate of the Allegheny City poor farm at Claremont.

The woman was found alone at Aspinwall station and was apparently demented. It was learned she had been a patient at both the Allegheny General and the St. Francis hospitals prior to the time she was picked up in Aspinwall. The woman's relatives in Beaver refused to have anything to do with her and Charity Director Hunneshagen of Allegheny arranged with the Beaver county authorities to take the woman off his hands.

GERMAN EMPEROR GIVES TOKEN OF APPRECIATION

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 25.—Baron Bussche, the charge of the German embassy, has delivered to the state department a silver watch and chain with the request that they be handed to George C. Ellis, a negro laborer at the Washington barracks, as a recognition by the German emperor of the action of Ellis in saving the statue of Frederick the Great from damage by the explosion of dynamite with the idea of destroying it. On the back of the watch appears the imperial monogram.

CRAZY CHAUFFEUR IS RUNNING A JUGGERNAUT

NEW YORK, July 25.—(Special.)—New York and Brooklyn police are searching high and low for a big green touring automobile, which they believe is driven by a chauffeur who is crazy. This reckless driver has run down at least three persons, one of whom was killed, but each time he has turned on full speed and escaped, while laughing at his victim.

Monopoly Rights Granted.

CARACAS, July 25.—The congress of Venezuela has ratified the contract made by the government with Senor C. I have been practicing medicine for sixteen years, and must say I find your Remedies A No. 1. You are at liberty to publish this letter, or any part of it. I remain, very truly yours, G. M.
